LARGE FORCE OF MEN

Fighters Worn Out by Hard Work; Eighty Sent Out by Irvine Company

All reports from the foothills are to the effect that the brush fire that was started Thursday morning on the Irvine ranch is under control, and that there remains now but small fires here and there where the canyons were most heavily wooded. Those who have returned from the vicinity of Hidden Ranch, where Forest Ranger Stephenson and Fire Guard Shaw with 100 men fought the flames in a section that was covered over with heavy brush, say that the fire was practically under control yesterday afternoon by 4 o'clock. The fire-fighting leaders kept a large force of men on duty all night with shovels beating out fire along the edges.

Manager Robertson of the Modjeska ranch in Santiago canyon stated last night that he had heard a report that two men had been burned to death in Hall canyon, at the head of which the hardest fight against the fire was made. He said that the report was brought to his men, who were on duty patrolling the fire in the Silverado canyon, by Lee Shaw. Robertson said he had talked to no one who said he knew anything definite concerning the matter. No one who has come down from the fire knows anything of it. Win. Pesterfield, who rode from the top of Santiago Peak to the fire with Ranger Stephenson, and Fire Guard Rhoades returned to El Toro last night from the crew under the ranger at the head of Hall's canyon, and they knew nothing of the report, and had not heard it. The coroner had received no notification of any deaths, and it is believed here that the report was groundless.

Robertson stated that the fire-fighters were worn out. Some of them were out fighting fire Thursday afternoon all Thursday night and yesterday. Eighty men sent yesterday noon by James Irvine gave them some relief.

In addition to damage reported in yesterday's Register, comes word that D. C. Pixley's cabin in Hall canyon was burned and that Robert Shaw's and Harding's apiaries in Black Star canyon were destroyed.

Postmaster-Gen. Bursleson to Aid; Guarantees Cotton to Reach Battlefront

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—The plan of United Press correspondent William G. Shepherd for the sending of absorbent cotton to the Australian Red Cross was enthusiastically approved today by Postmaster-General Bursleson, who promised the co-operation of his department in every way possible.

"Every postoffice in the country," Postmaster-General Bursleson said, "will accept packages of absorbent cotton for Vienna or elsewhere in the war zone. The United Press may make that statement emphatic. No postoffice has the right to refuse to accept these shipments on the ground that it will be difficult to reach Vienna. That is a question for the officials responsible to decide. We will guarantee that every package consigned to Australia and Germany will be rushed through Rotterdam and Berlin to its destination. We are able to accommodate hundreds of thousands of packages of the cotton."

Shepherd asserted through a recent United Press article that hospital surgeons at the front estimate that every ounce of cotton sent there will save one life.

SOUTHERN COLD RECORDS

Line-Smashing Plays of the Crimson Warriors Prove Irresistible

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 21.—Before a tremendous crowd Harvard today dedicated the new Yale Bowl by crushing the Blues in a score of 36 to 0 by sheer power of its attack.

Line plays won for Harvard, all the backs easily advancing the ball. Harvard's line was easily superior and Yale was out-classed.

Battering of the Yale line netted the first Crimson touchdown. Mahan, Brudie and Francke bucking the ball to the 12-yard line, whence Hardwick scored on Mahan's forward pass. Hardwick missed the goal. The period ended with the ball in mid-field after a punting duel between LeGore and Hardwick.

In the second period Harvard rushed the ball by line plays to the Yale goal, where Francke rescued it, but fumbled and the ball plunged across. Hardwick missed the goal. Yale here came to life and by a series of line bucks and forward passes carried the ball into the shadow of the Harvard goal, where Yale fumbled. Coolidge recovered the ball and ran ninety yards to a touchdown for Harvard. Hardwick kicked goal. Harvard then carried the ball into Yale territory, where Mahan tried three field goals, scoring on the last attempt.

In the third period Harvard's line-smashing netted another touchdown. Francke scoring and Hardwick kicking goal.

The final period was a repetition of the third. Harvard's backs battering their way to Yale's goal and Hardwick scoring a touchdown and kicking goal.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 21.—In the largest arena in the world and before what was expected to be the greatest crowd that ever witnessed a sporting event anywhere, Harvard met Yale today in the annual gridiron battle which dedicated this monster new home of the Blue eleven.

The massiveness of this structure, built around the field where the two teams met, was a sight to behold. The Crimson will clash in physical combat for the honor of their alma maters, fairly takes away one's breath. There are seats for 60,000 spectators in the tier upon tier of steps. On the rim of the bowl have been erected 10,000 additional seats. Graduate Manager of Athletics Everard Thompson announced today that every one of the 70,000 tickets had been sold or reserved three days ago.

In the distribution by allotment of this vast amount of tickets Manager Thompson hit upon a plan by which he believes he completely eliminated the speculators, who had hoped to reap a veritable harvest. Each applicant was made to fill out a blank with his name, address and class in college. This rule held with Harvard students and graduates as well as those from Yale. Money for tickets had to accompany each blank. Each applicant was numbered up to 70,000. The Yale and Harvard athletic associations received $140,000, which will be evenly divided.

The new bowl cost Yale $500,000 and is made entirely of concrete. The top, which is fifty-five feet above the gridiron, is 880 yards (a half mile) in circumference. The person who wants to walk back and forth along the tier of seats until he has covered every tier, would have twenty-four miles of pacing to his credit. The bowl is to be used exclusively for football games, and inside of six years it is expected to pay for itself. There is no standing room in the structure. It took a force of 1,000 students and salaried officials to show the spectators to their seats today.

The approach to the Bowl resembles Uncle Sam's coast defenses. The sloping grassy bank, which rises gradually from the outside to a height of seventy-five feet, completely hides the concrete structure.

CANAL PASSENGER TRAVEL TO N. Y. OPENS NOV. 26

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 21.—Steamship passenger service through the Panama Canal direct to New York will be inaugurated next Thursday, November 26, when the American-Hawaiian steamship Honolulu sails from Los Angeles harbor. A long list of passengers has been made up and already the service appears to have become popular.

On Wednesday, December 2, the steamship Luckenbach of the Luckenbach line will leave this port with passengers bound for New York. This boat also has booked many reservations for the trip. The voyage takes nineteen days.

Germans Put Trust in Strategy of Von Henderberg; Kaiser Says Friend to Ireland

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—"The act of the Turkish batteries in firing on the launch sent from the American cruiser Tennessee in the Gulf of Smyrna was not a hostile act but unfriendly."

The foregoing declaration in effect was contained in a statement in regard to the Smyrna incident by Capt. Decker, commander of the Tennessee and received this afternoon by the navy department, according to an admission made by Secretary of the Navy Daniels. Daniels said nothing further will be done in the matter until full reports have been received here from Captain Decker and Ambassador Morgenthau. It is understood, however, that Turkey will be asked to give her version.

Commenting on the incident, Presidential Secretary Tumulty said: "The public already knows what happened. A boat from the Tennessee tried to enter a harbor which Turkey had declared closed. A shot was fired across her bow to stop her."

BERLIN (via The Hague), Nov. 21.—The huge war engagement in progress for several days, continued today between the Russians and Germans in Russian Poland. The war office denied that the battle has yet reached a decisive stage. Public attention continues to be concentrated on the eastern theater of the war, because opinion is growing that the result of the entire war may depend on the result of the present engagement. Officials here are quietly confident of victory. (Wireless via Sayville)—Today's official report said: "It is generally taken for granted that the gigantic Russian army despite its enormous numerical superiority is heavily threatened by Gen. Von Hindenburg's ingenious strategy and bold offensive spirit. Russian defeat may decide the whole campaign in the east as Russia has no trained reserves and lacks arms, ammunition and officers."

Official denial of the English claim that German victory will be a calamity to Ireland was issued today. The foreign office, by order of the Imperial Chancellor, declared that Germany repudiates the evil intentions attributed to her in England's claim, saying that she desired only the welfare of Ireland and her people. The statement said:

"Germany will never invade Ireland with a view to the conquest or overthrow of native institutions. Instead, should fortune bring German troops to Irish shores, they would not land as invaders but as forces of a nation inspired by good will to the country for whom Germany desires only national prosperity and freedom."

PARIS, Nov. 21.—The allies had the best of Friday's fighting along the line between Belgium and France, according to the Bordeaux war office communication today. From Neuport to the Aisne and through the Champagne country, the artillery duel continued to rage. The general feeling here is optimistic.

Under cover of a bombardment, it is reported that the Germans made repeated attempts to construct new trenches, but the allies' fire compelled them to cease operations after heavy losses had been sustained.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 21.—Germany's offensive in Russian Poland where a vast battle is being fought between the Vistula and Warthe rivers has been checked, the war office asserted today. The fighting is reported as of the bloodiest character.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 21.—"The German attempt to march on Warsaw by breaking our front between Kielce-Radom has totally failed. The Germans lost heavily and are retreating. The Austro-German forces on the Czenstochova-Cracow front has similarly failed. Fierce action is progressing in the Cracow district, proving the German realization that this is a strong place with its powerful forts. It is the last rampart of their front." [Note: The above dispatch contains the first mention of the Kielce-Radom line in connection with the present Russo-German campaign. No previous dispatch had hinted that the Teutonic allies had penetrated that far into Russian territory. The dispatch was an official Russian statement in the "War Messenger," the official organ of the Russian general staff.]

She is still suffering greatly and her condition is such that physicians decided to forego making an X-ray examination, until it will be possible to move the patient. T. P. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21.—When the fleet of battleships which will come from the Atlantic seaboard to the Panama-Pacific International Exposition via the canal reaches San Francisco next spring, it may bring as passengers President Wilson and the entire Congress of the United States. The Turks think these ancient towers will be strong enough to keep allied forces from Constantinople. The tower on the left known as Mohammed II; and that on the right known as Mohammed I. are very old and probably would not last long before modern artillery. They are built of masonry instead of concrete, and the modern concrete forts in France and Belgium failed to withstand the German guns. Enver Pasha (shown in insert) is the young war minister of Turkey, who is credited with doing as much as any one to bring Turkey into the war on the side of Germany and Austria. He has had the army trained by German soldiers, and should land operations begin the troops will be led by efficient officers the Kaiser has sent to the Turks.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—No news has been received here concerning correspondent Herbert Coney of the New York Globe, who is under arrest at Aldershot, England, on charges which the British government has not yet made public.

It is understood that Coney has perhaps been somewhat anti-British in his dispatches, but as far as could be learned, he has written nothing the authorities consider seditious. Word from Ambassador Page is being awaited.

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 21.—Constructed under the direction of Glenn H. Curtiss, the fastest motor boat on the Pacific coast and probably in the United States was turned over to the First Aero Corps, U. S. A., here yesterday afternoon. In a number of speed trials this week, the craft carrying eight passengers, attained a speed of slightly more than forty-five miles an hour. The craft will be used by army aviators here in going to the assistance of flyers who get into trouble while making over-water flights.

British and Japanese Cruisers

Halted at Honolulu

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 21.—Fishermen brought reports today of the presence off the coast of Lower California of British and Japanese warships, causing the belief that they are preparing to search for the German squadron recently defeated by the British fleet off the Chilean coast.

Several British and Japanese ships have been reported. The cruiser New-castle came early in the week from the blue funnel steamer Protosilaus off Guadeloupe Island, two hundred miles South of Point Loma. The Japanese cruisers Hizen and Idzuma were sighted in the same neighborhood.

HONOLULU, Nov. 21.—T. Samura, a Japanese aviator, was prevented today from making an exhibition flight over the harbor by Governor Pinkham. Samura was previously scheduled to make a flight when the German gunboat Geier was undergoing repairs in the harbor. The government then prevented the flight on the grounds that it might be considered a violation of neutrality in view of the fact that two Japanese warships are waiting outside the harbor for the Geier. The Geier has since been interned. Permission for the flight today was therefore cabled from Washington. At the last moment, however, Governor Pinkham forbade the flight, saying he had received a letter and orders from Washington. No explanation was offered.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—That conferences soon to be held in Rome will decide definitely the status of Italy in the European war, was learned today on reliable authority. Italian Ambassador Marchesi started for Rome today, and both Paris and Petrograd messages stated that the Italian ambassadors there had been summoned home to participate in the discussion as to what action will be taken.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—A desperate battle is raging at Lodz in Russian Poland. The Germans are endeavoring to extend their battle front toward Warsaw, while the Russians are making tremendous sacrifices to prevent them. The fighting is still undecided. Both Russian and German statements claim success. While the reports are totally divergent in this respect, they are agreed that the conflict is terrific.

PARIS, Nov. 21.—There is no confirmation of the reported uprising in the German concentration camp in England resulting in the killing and wounding of many prisoners. The story is not regarded seriously here. The British government is ignoring the report.

Tustin Budget

Edited by Miss Florence StoneSCHOOL AIDED BY
P. T. ASSOCIATIONSum Given for Ornament on New Building; Interesting
Grade Exercises

A meeting of the Tustin Parent-Teacher Association was held last Friday afternoon at the school house. At the opening of the meeting the president, Mrs. S. W. Stanley, gave a report of her visit to the meeting of the county organization, now called District No. 4 of the Orange County Congress of Mothers, held at Fullerton, Saturday, October 17.

From the reports of different associations at that meeting Mrs. Stanley gathered some very helpful ideas and plans which will be of interest to carry out when the new building is finished in regard to playgrounds, entertainments, magazine circulation, etc.

Under the head of new business Mrs. Marcy spoke of the matter of a finishing touch which had been proposed for the new school house, the price of which was not provided for in the contract. It had been suggested by the architect that an ornament for the center of the front of the new building in the form of an eagle would be very appropriate and fitting.

The idea was favored by the trustees and they thought it would be a good thing to let the school children have a part in paying for it.

A motion carried that every member of the school be asked to contribute ten cents to this fund and that the trustees be instructed to go ahead and order the work done.

Mrs. Stanley recommended a series of twelve pictures for the primary room.

The program for the afternoon consisted of a story from each of the first five grades.

In the first number the little first grade pupils acted out the story of the "Three Bears." Miss Doherty arranged a few chairs, a table, bowl and spoons and square marks on the floor for beds, and the little girls dramatized the story, showing action and punishment for disobedience.

Miss Adams had chosen for the second grade a poem illustrating generosity, gentleness and sweetness of childhood, which was recited by Marjorie Cranston.

Miss Osborne's third grade story, "Little Boy Blue," by Elizabeth Utt, illustrated pathos.

The fourth number, "Bird's Christmas Carol," could not be given because the little girl who was to have presented it was sick.

The fifth number was historical, the story of Sir Walter Raleigh and Queen Elizabeth.

Miss Turner read a paper about stories and books for children.

A piano piece, "Rock of Ages," by Ada Squires, and another, "There's a Land That is Fairer Than Day," by Zena Leck, finished the program.

A question box was conducted and a number of very interesting questions were asked and answered.

CO-OPERATIVE BUYING

The big jump in food prices in August on account of the European war carried over into September. Since then there has been a marked decline. The clubs which have been formed in many of the large cities of the east for the purpose of co-operative buying are efforts, perhaps, in the right direction for solving the problem of the high cost of living.

They are no doubt experiments of those who believe that the present competitive method is responsible for the trouble.

Starting upon the principle that the consumer and distributor are one in interests, neither one trying to get ahead of the other, the difference in the two methods will be apparent.

A storekeeper figuring upon getting a certain number of orders for fish on a certain day must get a good man and his team off early in the morning to the wharf five miles away to buy fish. It must be fresh for his customers.

The time of the man and his team and the loss of fish left over must be added to the price of the fish.

On the other hand, if orders are taken in advance for fish to be delivered on a certain day in the week, when it can be most advantageously bought, a great saving is possible.

If the housewife is part owner in the store or club, that vigilance required by the competitive system to insure high quality of goods and just weights will not be so necessary.

Her own steady custom and that of all she can recommend will help in wholesale orders.

The idea is in its infancy in this country, and the greatest patience is required in working out its methods.

These principles have been worked out in Great Britain. Such stores have been in operation for years.

In the Journal of Home Economics reports will be given from time to time of the progress of these co-operative buying clubs.

TUSTIN PERSONALS

Mrs. Virginia Brookbank returned Wednesday from a few days' visit to her daughter, Mrs. Harry Kiser, in Orange.

Mrs. Harry Hicks returned home from the Santa Ana hospital Thursday very much improved in health.

Miss Eva Stearns is spending the week with the family of G. W. Wells at Fullerton.

Mr. and Mrs. Fenlon Matthews and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Deitweiler and family took an automobile trip to Long Beach last Sunday.

Mrs. John Dryer returned today from a several days' visit with relatives in Altadena.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Marcy spent the day in Los Angeles last Sunday. O. B. Marcy returned with them to Tustin.

Miss Lena Wollenberg returned yesterday from a visit to Los Angeles.

Mrs. L. A. Cook has been with her daughter, Mrs. A. Eggert, in Los Angeles for the past week or ten days.

Mrs. A. Thorman left Tuesday for a trip to Loma Linda.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Hubbard spent the week end with E. L. Higgins and family.

Mrs. S. A. Eddie was a guest of Mrs. D. L. McCharles this week.

Mrs. A. L. Cotant and daughter, Miss Louise Cotant, were visitors in Los Angeles Tuesday.

Miss Lida Turner will spend the Thanksgiving season in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Eliza Packwood left Thursday to make her home with her brother in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Ernest Crawford, Mrs. Effie Crawford and William Hazen are visitors in Los Angeles this week.

Mrs. Emma Colgan and sons, Ross and Horace Shafer, will attend the auto races at Corona.

Mrs. J. A. Phinney and Miss Williams went to Los Angeles Thursday to attend the funeral services for Mrs. Edwin Tuttle.

Charles Cotant, who has been cashier of the First National Bank of Tustin, left the first of this week for Los Angeles, where he will take an advanced business course.

Rev. Roger Sherman and wife came to Tustin Thursday. Their home is in Pasadena, but they will occupy the Advent Christian church parsonage every week end, and Rev. Sherman will fill the pulpit of that church until a permanent pastor is called.

THANKSGIVING DAY

Brings Up Memories
Of Ye Olden Times

The occasion brings to most of us pleasant memories; to many, reminiscences of the dear old days back in New England. Then, as now, the women of the household busied themselves preparing good things for the Thanksgiving dinner.

Mince Meat making in olden times was a task involving much time and effort. Women of today save the bother and worry that their grandmothers had to undergo in making Mince Pies, by ordering ready-prepared Mince Meat from the grocer; thus practicing economy not only of time, but in actual outlay.

And when they order "None Such Mince Meat," they know absolutely that they will get the best Mince Meat that money will buy. The enormous sale of "None Such Mince Meat" for 30 years is positive proof of its excellence. Many housewives of today are buying "None Such Mince Meat" whose mothers taught them to do so. "None Such Mince Meat" is made in a big sunlit hygienic plant, built expressly for the purpose, and supplied with specially designed machinery which handles the product through the various processes without its being touched by human hands. "None Such Mince Meat" is for sale by good grocers everywhere. —Advertisement.

PASSING AWAY OF
FORMER RESIDENTMrs. Edwin Tuttle's Death at California Hospital is Mourned Here

The friends of Mrs. Edwin Tuttle are deeply grieved to hear of her death on Wednesday morning at the California Hospital in Los Angeles. She was taken to the hospital a week ago last Monday, but no one realized that the end was so near.

About four years ago she came as a bride to Tustin with her husband, Edwin Tuttle, who was agent at the Southern Pacific depot. She was a most lovable woman and at once became a favorite with all the young people. She took an interest in every good work and was an active member of the Christian Endeavor Society.

Some two years ago Mr. Tuttle changed his position to another office of the Southern Pacific at Heber, Imperial Valley, and they lived there until the past six months. In that time she had suffered greatly from heart trouble, and was not able in any way to overcome it.

Mr. Tuttle was called Wednesday morning, when she became suddenly worse.

The funeral was conducted Thursday afternoon at the pierce undertaking parlors, Los Angeles, and the interment was at Euclid Heights cemetery.

SOCIETY AND CLUBS

W. C. T. U. Meeting

The meeting of the Tustin W.C.T.U. will not be held next week on account of Thanksgiving, the next regular meeting will be held Thursday, December 10, at the home of Mrs. E. B. Holderman. Under the auspices of the W.C.T.U. a reception will be given to the teachers of the Tustin grammar school on Friday night, December 4, at the home of Mrs. A. J. Cranston.

Birthday Surprise

A surprise party was given Dudley Kiser Thursday night upon the occasion of his birthday. His brother, Ed Kiser called after supper to engage his attention and to keep him from retiring while relatives to the number of twenty-six gathered at the home of another brother, John Kiser, and came over in a body to his home. All were in fine spirits by the time they reached their destination.

As Mrs. Kiser had arranged the entire affair she was, of course, ready for the merry party, the older members of which finally settled down to an interesting game of whist, while the children proceeded to have a good time together.

About that time the whole party was surprised by a sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pilgrim of Oceanide, who were not expected.

Delicious sandwiches, coffee, chocolate and cake were served.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. H. Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pilgrim, Mr. and Mrs. Fenlon Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kiser, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kiser, Misses Jessie Rumsey, Jessie and Carrie Matthews, and Bernice Kiser, Clyde Cooper, Louis and Leonard Cook, Bonnie Kiser, George, Frank and Harry Matthews and Lee Kiser.

Miss Butterfield's Recital

All those who were fortunate enough to be present at the Presbyterian Church last night to hear the program of songs given by Miss Dorothy Butterfield are to be congratulated. Sel-dom is an opportunity like this afforded in a small place.

It would be difficult to describe her combined youthfulness, grace, self-control and perfect mastery of a voice sweet as it is strong and cultured. J. Franklin Newman is a fine accompanist in every sense of the word.

The interior of the church was almost transformed with a lovely decoration of pink roses and feathery fern and every possible arrangement had been made to give her a graceful welcome by the young people of the Christian Endeavor. Many of them were her playmates when she lived in Tustin. Little curly-haired June Willard carried her bouquets of flowers.

There was a good attendance and the audience was an exceedingly appreciative one. When the program was finished the audience sat still as if spell-bound and did not stir until Ross Shafer, for the Christian Endeavor Society, rose and said he knew that they, like himself, would have the songs continue indefinitely, but he was sorry to say the program was finished.

Household Economics

The members of the Tustin Household Economics Section held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. W. L. Leiby Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Leiby and Mrs. Fred Preble were the hostesses.

One new member was taken into the club and eleven of the thirteen members were present.

The subject for consideration was "Economy in Buying," and while the discussion was in progress the ladies hemmed twelve towels for the day nursery.

The ladies all decided that by buying in large quantities a great saving is oftentimes possible.

It was voted unanimously at the last meeting that any of the hostesses who served more than two things besides a drink at their regular meetings should be fined.

When the ladies were called to the luncheon a table was found invitingly spread and decorated with holly. Tiny turkey pape cards were used and white mittens were tied with red ribbon.

A large, beautifully browned, tempting-looking turkey occupied the head of the table. When the sandwiches and coffee were passed and there were indications of a plum pudding, the ladies naturally supposed that the hostess had generously decided to furnish a delicious turkey and pay a fine into the bargain. But when the turkey proved to be only an ornament and no good at all as an eatable, the tables were turned and much merriment ensued. The plum pudding was intended to be served from inside the turkey, but the scheme would not work, and this caused more merriment.

The splendid imitation of a delicious turkey was the work of the Tustin genius, Mrs. P. H. Ebell.

Those present were Mrs. W. L. Leiby and Mrs. Fred Preble, hostesses; Mrs. Good Adams, Mrs. Charles Bowman, Mrs. H. Romer, Mrs. Fred Beckman, Mrs. B. H. Sharpless, Mrs. S. W. Stanley, Mrs. Byron Johnson, Mrs. E. J. Cranston and Miss Minnie C. Childs.

There will be no meeting of the club in December.

Tustin Literature Section

The regular meeting of the Tustin Literature section was held at the home of Mrs. Harry Lewis Tuesday afternoon.

Responses to the roll call were given in current events of interest.

The study and discussion of several different articles in the Literary Digest occupied the afternoon.

The Tustin Y

A very good attendance of the Tustin Y members gathered for their meeting at the home of Miss Louise Long last Friday night.

Miss Long was one of the first organizers of the Y. P. B. in Tustin and has always taken a stand for high ideals in the things which it represents. Her cordial welcome last Friday night at once put all the young people at ease.

The president, Miss Clara Thorman, explained that although they had received a letter from Cecil Noel, president of the California Y. P. B., that he would attend the meeting and they had gone to Santa Ana to meet him, they had failed to find him at either depot.

As it was past the hour, the meeting was called to order.

Several chorus songs were sung and all repeated the Lord's Prayer in unison.

Reports of the secretary and treasurer were received and several matters of business were attended to. At the same time it was thought possible the speaker would arrive later. Finally his coming was given up and the program, in charge of Elmer Deaver, proceeded.

George Brown was asked to give a talk on the subject of temperance legislation. The subject of his remarks was embodied in a clipping which he read; the copy of a paper which the liquor and wine men propose to present to the next legislature, formulating measures which will restrict and restrain the liquor business and confine it within the bounds of what they call real, genuine temperance.

Mrs. Deaver gave some of his experiences in his travels through the state during the recent Dry Federation campaign. When other remarks were called for, Mrs. Rawlings said she was recently reminded of a fact that the temperance people had not taken into account. It was that the taxpayers of the state are paying the salary of a professor in the University whose business it is to teach the process of wine making.

A piano solo by Miss Mildred Marchant, a song by Miss Jessie Rawlings accompanied by Miss Dorothy Utt on the violin, and duets by Miss Gertrude and Dorothy Utt on piano and violin were all charming and much appreciated.

The program finished, the whole company was chosen into two sides by captains and the jolly game of "pass the clothespins" was engaged in. It proved most amusing and just boisterous enough to give vent to youthful spirits.

At the close of the game Miss Long and Miss Ethel Doherty in serving was assisted by Miss Grace Casner delicious fruitade and cakes.

The evening was a most enjoyable one for all who attended the Y meeting.

Missions Meeting

A meeting of the Presbyterian Missionary Society was held Thursday afternoon at the church. The meeting was not as largely attended as usual, but some interesting reports were given.

Mrs. W. L. Leiby, chairman of the meeting, reported that the Junior Christian Endeavorers, with the assistance of Mr. William Jones, had gleaned in the bean fields about forty pound of beans and had commissioned her to take them to the Spanish school in Los Angeles. The Box Secretary said she would get the box of fruit off this week.

Mrs. G. W. Pollard conducted the devotional exercises with scripture reading and prayer.

The topic for the afternoon was in charge of Mrs. Kaiser, who gave a short talk on work among Mexicans and Spanish people.

Mrs. McCullough gave an account of an interesting visit to the Spanish school in Los Angeles. Mrs. Tingley read a paper entitled "Mexico's Need" and this was followed by Mrs. McCullough's report from the November meeting of the Presbyterial, where she heard reports from all over the Presbyterian mission field.

Miss Drake read a paper from a large mission in China asking for picture cards. They said they could use a thousand every Sunday, as there are so many who cannot read but can be taught with picture cards. A committee was appointed to enlist the interest of the Sunday school children in gathering the cards and sending them as soon as possible.

The next meeting of the society is to be an evening meeting on Thursday night, December 17.

An effort will be made to secure an interesting speaker for that meeting.

New School House

The work on the new school house is progressing rapidly and very satisfactorily. Work on the roof is in progress this week.

The roof of the auditorium is now waterproof. The heavy paper is on preparatory to putting on the tile. The plaster work is finished on brick walls which do not require lathing. The owl which finishes the central gable facing B street is perched in its place.

Nature Study Class

Some fine work has been done by the pupils of the Tustin school in the nature study class. A good collection of beautiful butterflies has been made and mounted. A curious specimen in the form of a trap-door spider's nest was brought in by one of the pupils.

Two of the immense spiders and several young ones accompanied the nest, and are now preserved in alcohol.

This nature study covers a wide range of subjects and the pupils are deeply interested in it.

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND FOR CROUP

—Croup scares you. The loud hoarse croupy cough, choking and gasping for breath, labored breathing, call for immediate relief. The very first doses of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound will master the croup. It cuts the thick mucus, clears away the phlegm and opens up and eases the air passages. Herold Berg, Mass, Mich., writes: "We give Foley's Honey and Tar to our children for croup and it always acts quickly." Every user is a friend. Sold by all druggists. Advertisement.

EAST NEWPORT
NEWS BUDGET

EAST NEWPORT, Nov. 21.—Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Bellinger have been here from Eagle Rock for a few days the past week, occupying their home on Bay Island.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Edwards have returned to their home in Los Angeles, after spending the week-end in their cottage on Bay avenue.

Wm. Boxall is here from Los Angeles, as the guest of his sister, Mrs. Horace Little.

The Misses Grace Murray, Ruth Johnson and Frances Brown, teachers in the Riverside schools, spent the week-end at East Newport, occupying Miss Brown's cottage on Surf avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Edwardson are here from Placentia for a week's outing, and are in their cottage on Central avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Tetley were here from Riverside one day this week, making the trip by automobile.

W. H. Parsons is here from San Bernardino for a week's vacation of hunting, and is occupying his home on Bay avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Gansert have been here from Hollywood for several days this week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Huff and Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Rutherford were here from Santa Ana over the past week-end and entertained with a delightful house party. Their guests were Mr. Robert Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Collier, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Yarnall, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. John Tubbs and Mrs. Addie Collins.

The Ebell Club held its regular meeting Thursday afternoon at the clubhouse of the South Coast Yacht Club, with the president, Mrs. N. T. Shaw in the chair. There was a good attendance of the members and several guests were present. Splendid reports of the convention of the Southern District of Women's Federated Clubs which met last week in Santa Ana were given by Mrs. W. W. Wilson. Mrs. Horace read a very interesting paper on current musical events, and several songs were delightfully rendered by the kindergarten children. The next meeting of the club will be on Friday, December 4. This will take the form of a stereoscopic lecture given by Mrs. Florence Collins Porter, at the Balboa theater. Mrs. Porter is one of the commissioners of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Southern California Panama Exposition and views of both expositions will be given.

GLASS OF SALTS
CLEANS KIDNEYS

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers You, Drink Lots of Water

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs to excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild harmless salt which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.—Advertisement.

Scene from Schiller's immortal tale, "William Tell," the strong drawing card to be featured at the Temple Theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next week. This great masterpiece promises to be something out of the ordinary, the scenes were taken in Switzerland, the beauty spot of the world, and is in six reels. For Sunday only will be Mary Pickford in "Hearts Adrift," a romance of the sea. Tonight will close the last performance of "The Patchwork Girl of Oz."

WITNESSES SAY CONDEMNED
COWS WERE BROUGHT TO THIS COUNTY FROM LOS ANGELES

Los Angeles Tribune: That at least two of the condemned cows, disposed of and later alleged to have been brought back to this county for slaughter, are at present alive in Orange county; and that the indications are that several more are there also, were the discoveries which constituted the most important result of yesterday morning's session of the county farm probe being conducted by the Board of Supervisors.

As the questions were replied to yesterday it became more and more apparent that the charges preferred against the county institution by the grand jury on October 28 are well founded on fact. The testimony was secured only after a most careful examination of the four leading witnesses. It constitutes by far the strongest evidence against the officials of the farm which thus far has been elicited during the investigation.

Rowland Identifies Stock
According to the statements of the witnesses, it appears that at least four cows from the county farm are still alive in Orange county. Dr. Rowland, former county livestock inspector, and now deputy state livestock inspector, in telling of the result of his visit to the McClintock ranch since he was last before the supervisors, declared that he had been able during his visit to positively identify two of the cows there and felt morally certain that a third cow was from the county farm herd.

Albert Kleinhouse described how he drove twenty-one cows from the county farm to the Santa Ana Jersey farm. He asserted that he left the county farm about 11 o'clock at night, and arrived at the Jersey farm about 3 p. m. the next day. This, according to the witness, was in the neighborhood of the middle of October, 1913. He declared that Marriott told him he was to keep the registered cows a year, and then they were to go to Mary's ranch, Imperial Valley.

The cows, Kleinhouse stated, were kept there until a day or two before New Year's day. Before he left, he said, he had sold one of the animals to Charles Brown, near Santa Ana, for $200, and given the money to William Marriott, formerly head milker at the county farm.

Cows Returned, Asserted
Louis Schmidt stated that he took the cows away from the Santa Ana Jersey farm and had charge of them at different places in Los Angeles county, and from there to the foothills near Riverside. Later on—in March—Schmidt said, Kleinhouse went to Olive, in Orange county, and got these cows, returning with them to the Santa Ana Jersey farm. He was an excellent witness.

That he bought a bull guaranteed to be registered, for $100 with the understanding that his check, given to C. C. Manning, superintendent of the farm, was not to be cashed until the registration certificate was furnished, was the testimony of J. S. Fredericks. He told of how he had kept the bull for some time, when the animal, having suffered injuries and the registration certificate not being forthcoming, he returned it to the farm.

The investigation will be resumed Tuesday.

Declares Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Saved Her Life and Sanity.

Shamrock, Mo.—"I feel it my duty to tell the public the condition of my health before using your medicine. I had falling, inflammation and congestion, female weakness, pains in both sides, backaches and bearing down pains, was short of memory, nervous, impatient, passed sleepless nights, and had neither strength nor energy. There was always a fear and dread in my mind, I had cold, nervous, weak spells, hot flashes over my body. I had a place in my right side that was so sore that I could hardly bear the weight of my clothes. I tried medicines and doctors, but they did me little good, and I never expected to get out again. I got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier, and I certainly would have been in grave or in an asylum if your medicines had not saved me. But now I can work all day, sleep well at night, eat anything I want, have no hot flashes or weak, nervous spells. All pains, aches, fears and dreads are gone, my house, children and husband are no longer neglected, as I am almost entirely free of the bad symptoms I had before taking your remedies, and all is pleasure and happiness in my home."—Mrs. JESSE HAM, R. THE BLUE SKY LAW

According to unofficial returns, Amendment No. 5 on the ballot was approved. This is what is commonly termed the Blue Sky law, and is copied after a similar law in Kansas and other states, and under its provisions investment companies and building and loan associations will be subject to examination by state officials the same as state banks.

This law was passed by the last legislature, and Charles A. Elder, president of the Los Angeles Investment Co., and others—some of whom are now facing the penitentiary—caused referendum petitions to be circulated and prevented the law from becoming operative until it was voted upon by the people. Elder and others of his kind of course knew that the "jig" was up with them as soon as such a law was enforced.

This law is a blessing to California, as it is doubtful if there is any other state in the Union where the public has been fleeced by the investment company sharks as it has in this commonwealth. One of the greatest blows ever struck the commercial interests of the Southland was the failure of the Los Angeles Investment Co.—and this law will forever prevent a repetition of such gigantic schemes.

The principal stock of these capital takers consisted chiefly of floors covered with thick velvet carpet and fine mahogany furniture and fixtures and large spaces in the principal newspapers, telling about the next advance in the capital stock of the prosperous concern and the amount of the last dividend. The people are to be congratulated upon their wisdom in passing favorably upon such a beneficial law. —Huntington Beach News.

HIGHER STANDARDS

(Indianapolis News)

With a frequency that is itself significant, it happens every day that men occupying public office suddenly find themselves censured for doing precisely what their predecessors did. Brought unexpectedly to account, these officials present is that their predecessors did the same thing and met with no disapproval. The incumbent points to precedent and custom, and apparently in some perplexity, asks why procedure sanctioned or condoned in the past is now viewed in the light of an offense. The answer is that the public attitude toward public office has changed. Broad-minded observers of public affairs are aware of this. But the politician seems to find it difficult to adjust his mind to the new order. He does not believe because he does not want to believe.

Recently, the warden of Sing Sing prison was discharged. Investigation has developed the fact that his offense lay in employing a prisoner to act as his private chauffeur. The pre-ferment in this instance happened to fall upon a convict whose prominence before conviction served to focus public attention on the matter. But, even so, not until he received information of his dismissal did the warden feel the slightest insecurity in his position. He had merely followed precedent; he had done only what his predecessors had done. Why, he asks, should he be punished for procedure that heretofore has caused no criticism whatever? And the reply is that the offending warden is merely subject to the new morality that has at last penetrated politics as it has business.

It is a rebuke, in one respect at least, for those who practice methods that belong to the past, however close at hand the past may be. It is an expression of the public's changed attitude of mind. And it is a notice, too, for those who are wise enough to read its message aright, that the public will tolerate no return to those old methods. It has adopted the new standard and it means to insist on its observance.

FOUR YEARS MORE

(Oakland Enquirer)

It might as well be understood and accepted by the country that for the next four years Democrats will dictate legislation. For the next two years both houses will be strongly Democratic. For the first two years of the next administration the Senate, at least, is practically sure to be Democratic. Even though a Progressive President were elected in 1916, with a Progressive lower house, no conceivable political upheaval will alter the Senate's composition.

As we figure it, the Democratic Senate majority is now so strong that if every Republican senator whose election recurs in 1916 were succeeded by a Republican, and if, besides this, every doubtful state were to go Republican, still the Senate would remain Democratic until March 4, 1919.

And it is clear that no delusions regarding what is ahead of us should be indulged. We are in for Democratic government, positive or negative, for a long time to come. The airy possibility of the Republican press regarding a restoration of the country in 1916, and a lot more stuff in that vein, are simply the fanciful concoctions of ignorance and bigotry.

THE DESTROYERS...

By Philander Johnson

(Washington Star)

Said the man who molds the cannon to the man who builds the ship, "I'm giving you a cargo for a strange and fearful trip. And if you float or if you sink out yonder in the sea I'll keep on molding cannon; and it's all the same to me."

Said the man who builds the ship unto the cannon molder grim, "I'll take your cannon for a sail where lads all smart and trim Will aim and fire so true. And if your cannon shattered be, I'll keep on with my building; and it's all the same to me."

"For every gun that cracks we'll mold a bigger, stouter gun. For every ship that sinks we'll put afloat a better one. The lads that come and go—the women weep to lose them thus! But we make cannons and ships, and it's all the same to us."

DAME FASHION'S WHIM

Coral is a favorite shade in gowns for evening. Loose Russian coats button from throat to knee.

Soutache braiding appears on many coat dresses. Square metal buttons appear on black satin gowns.

The new very narrow sashes are lined with chiffon. Forest green is a most fashionable color this fall.

The wide-brimmed hat has regained its popularity. Basque dresses have net tunics over their satin skirts.

Dance frocks for young girls are both short and trained. High satin collars have lace collars standing up inside.

Tunics are gathered on to the skirt yokes with headings. Angles rather than curves distinguish the new tunics.

Blouses of afternoon gowns are made of embroidered chiffon. Some skirts have tiers of chiffon flounces bordered with satin.

Old-fashioned round combs are coming in again for children. The gauntlet cuff or ribbed silk is used on many smart costumes.

The smaller fur neckpieces are formed almost entirely of tails. The all-white frock will continue its popularity through the winter.

The broad girle is even more popular this season than before.

TWO MILLION DOLLAR BUILDING DEDICATED

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21.—The dedication of the California building under the auspices of the Women's Board of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, took place this afternoon. A reception and dance will follow the formal exercises.

The California building will be the best building for the exposition. When furnished and fitted with displays it will represent an outlay of $2,000,000 and will be the second largest building on the exposition grounds.

The California building faces San Francisco bay at the beginning of the area devoted to states. Inside the driveway arch of the south arcade is the forecourt, reminiscent of the cloisters of the old missions that have played their part in the history of California.

The entire building is in the mission style. The California counties' section of the great building will provide one of the finest ball rooms to be found anywhere. It is practically 200 feet square and there is a balcony running entirely around the room.

The hostesses are Mrs. Hiram Johnson, wife of the governor of California; the members of the Women's Board, chairman and vice-chairman of the county auxiliaries and the wives of county exposition commissioners, supervisors and other officials.

CONSTRUCTIVE NEEDS

CHESTER H. ROWELL IN CALIFORNIA OUTLOOK

There is a general tendency to advocate going slow at the next two sessions of the legislature. "We have done so much these last four years," say the advocates of this policy, "that it is enough if we confirm and perfect what we already have, without undertaking much that is new." The fact that the Progressive platform was largely a recital of records rather than a promise indicates that this was the sentiment of the legislative candidates. It was the paradox of a progressive party in power standing pat on its record. And, in a popular government, the theory of it was correct. The people have a right to determine how fast they will go, and that is never going to be fast enough to suit even the pioneers of constructive thought—to say while this is the obvious natural tendency, the logic of events is likely to force the opposite policy, and to compel at least three great constructive policies.

The first practical emergency is going to be forced by the problem of unemployment. That situation will be acute this winter, and it is already too late to do much about it beyond the mere palliation of temporary charity. But the burden of that charity, and its transparent absurdity as anything more than a makeshift of confessed failure, will soon force the real problem on the attention of the people and of the government. Then we shall prepare to do the real things—registration and organization of the casual workers; state employment and information bureaus; public works in slack seasons—and, finally, as a future but inevitable culmination, unemployment insurance.

PITTSBURG HAS FIRE PREVENTION PAGEANT

PITTSBURG, Nov. 21.—Boy Scouts, Campfire Girls and the city fire department led Pittsburgh's first annual fire prevention pageant here today. Old and new apparatus showed the evolution of fire-fighting machinery from the hand-drawn of old volunteer days to the gasoline-propelled of the present.

Banners carried by the marchers and placards suspended from horses and vehicles warned against fire, gave fireless statistics and urged the people to report to the city officials brush piles, unguarded shacks and buildings in which the fire prevention code may be ignored.

"SHOP EARLY" SOUNDS IN FOREST CITY PEWS

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 21.—Cleveland pastors will sound the "shop early" Christmas season slogan from their pulpits tomorrow, according to announcements today. The aid of the churches in the movement comes at the request of the Cleveland Consumers' League, an organization of both buyers and shopkeepers.

Pastors will further advocate the passage of laws providing an eight-hour working day, and a six-day week with no night work for women.

BURNS MAKES REPORT

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 21.—Donors to Cleveland charities met here today with trustees of the Cleveland Federation of Charity and Philanthropy to arrange for the issuance of a bulletin on the six weeks' survey of Cleveland charities by Allen T. Burns, famous sociologist.

Burns and other social workers were engaged by the Cleveland foundation to investigate the charity situation in Cleveland, and make a report suggesting corrections in the present system.

SANTA ANANS SEE AUTO RACERS FLY ON CORONA CIRCLE

Clockers at the Corona speed rehearsals this morning taught Eddie Pullen making the 2.76895 miles of the course in 1 minute and 40 seconds, or at an average speed of 99.7 miles per hour.

Ralph De Palmer made his first appearance on the speedway today in his Mercedes. He had trouble, however, and made only three or four laps during the second period of practise, between 11:10 and 12 o'clock.

The two Maxwell cars were seen on the course for the first time today, as was also the third of the Stutz entries, Billy Carlson driving.

The Eastern drivers are all emphatic in declaring that the Corona course is just as fast as the Indianapolis speedway, some even saying that all previous Indianapolis records will be smashed Thursday.

Bob Burman, who in a Peugeot yesterday made the fastest lap ever made on a race course by turning the circle at the rate of 102.5 miles an hour, was heard to say today that he expected to make a lap Monday in 1 minute and 35 seconds, or at the rate of 104.9 miles per hour.

The two Sunbeams were on the course this morning, but their drivers, Harry Grant and Harry Babcock, contented themselves with a moderate pace, seeming to want to familiarize themselves with the track rather than to show sensational bursts of speed.

Babcock gave W. L. Pegler, of the Crown Garage, Corona, a taste of what racing speed is like this morning when he took him around the circle for three or four laps at a rate of 94.9 miles an hour. Up in the press stand after the fast laps in the English car had been completed, the burly driver of the car lounged about and watched the other cars on the track without the least show of concern. He was as cool as a cucumber and no one would have suspected from his demeanor that he had just finished those several terrific laps. Pegler, on the other hand, was seen to be quite shaky—and small wonder.

Eddie Pullen won the unqualified admiration of all the speed fans by the masterful way in which he handled the powerful Mercer during the 99-mile-an-hour laps.

The practise runs by the famous speed men are attracting a great deal of attention. This morning there were nearly 1000 persons in the grandstands. A number of Santa Ana people motored to the Circle City to watch the speed trials.

LOCAL SUGAR BEET FACTORIES NOT TO CLOSE THEIR DOORS

Inquiry at the Southern California Sugar Company's plant and at that of the Co-Operative Sugar Company brings to light the information that the local factories are not included in the seventy-seven beet sugar factories in the United States which have definitely decided to permanently close their doors on May 1, 1916, when sugar goes on the free list, as provided in the Underwood Tariff bill.

The report that the seventy-seven plants have planned to close down on that date was contained in one of the Los Angeles papers, and was made by J. Ross Clark, vice-president of the United States Sugar Manufacturing Association, when he returned to Los Angeles after having attended the annual meeting of the national organization of sugar men in San Francisco Tuesday.

The local factories have made no plans to close their doors on the date mentioned. In short, from all that can be learned, both plants have made plans for campaigns far in advance of May 1, 1916, and for this reason there seems to be little likelihood of their closing down.

SUCCESSFUL DINNER

Thanksgiving Feast Included in Course of Sixth Section of Ebell Economics

The Sixth Section of Ebell House-hold Economics had a delightful Thanksgiving dinner yesterday noon at the residence of Mrs. A. M. Gardner 311 East Washington avenue. The color scheme of the house and table decorations was yellow, the result being particularly effective. Chrysanthemums relieved with green ferns were used. The committee in charge of the dinner arrangements included Mrs. Gardner, Mrs. J. P. Baumgartner, Mrs. P. N. Beissel, Mrs. E. H. Sprague, Mrs. C. W. Burns, Mrs. Fred Wilkes, Mrs. A. C. Black, Mrs. W. H. Smith and Mrs. J. G. Quick.

A long table was set in the dining room and the appointments, including the nut cups which were shaped as chrysanthemums, and the brass candelabra with chrysanthemum-shaped shades, carried out the yellow color motif. The beautiful hand-painted place cards were the work of Miss Ruth Burns.

The dinner was served in courses and the Thanksgiving menu, opening with fruit cocktail, included roast turkey with cranberry ice and browned gravy, mashed potatoes, scalloped corn, salad, pickles, celery, hot rolls, carrot pudding, candy, nuts and coffee.

Those at the table included Mrs. A. M. Gardner, Mrs. J. P. Baumgartner, Mrs. P. N. Beissel, Mrs. E. H. Sprague, Mrs. W. H. Smith, Mrs. C. W. Burns, Mrs. Fred Wilkes, Mrs. A. C. Black, Mrs. J. G. Quick, Mrs. A. J. Crookshank, Mrs. S. M. Davis, Mrs. J. E. Gowen, Mrs. Chas. Heil, Mrs. F. P. Jayne, Mrs. R. N. Miles, Mrs. E. M. Nealley, Mrs. Norton, Mrs. Mac Robbins, Mrs. Geo. S. Smith, Mrs. Stewart, Mrs. Lea Warren, Miss Lida Crookshank, Mrs. O'Brien, Miss Margaret Orr, and Mrs. Keith, mother of Mrs. S. M. Davis, a guest of the club.

W. C. T. U. Meeting

The W. C. T. U. will meet on Tuesday at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. J. E. Gowen, 928 Spurgeon street. This is the Thanksgiving meeting and the Southern California Home for Women and the Infant Box committees will have a part in the program. Donations of clothing or anything useful in house-keeping will be received at this meeting. Infants' clothing is especially needed to replenish the infant box. An offering of money is being much needed at the home, so all are asked to attend prepared with a generous offering. Everybody is invited.

Annual Musicales

HARVEST HOME SUPPER

Splendid Yearly Event Passes Off Successfully With Generous Thank Offering

The annual Harvest Home and thank offering of the First Presbyterian church that took place last evening, completely realized the joyous anticipations with which the members of the church and congregation had looked forward to the yearly event. Hundreds of people were seated at the generously-laden, holly-trimmed tables that almost filled the spacious dining room of the church and again and again were the tables reset and replenished. The Harvest Home features were preserved, by delicious cold meats, salads, jellies, baked beans, scalloped potatoes, brown and white bread, pumpkin pie and steaming hot coffee.

The young men and women of the church aided in the table service which was excellently performed, everyone being waited on promptly, and deftly. The ladies of the committees in charge were thoroughly efficient and every detail of the affair was carried out in perfection. The dining room presented a cheerful scene, when the tables were filled. The prettily appointed tables were most plentifully garnished and those seated at the festive appearing boards were most delightfully animated, with laughter and chat making a pleasant accompaniment to the various courses of the feast.

Mrs. H. C. Dawes was chairman of the kitchen committee, Mrs. J. H. Rankin of the dining room committee. Mrs. P. R. Reynolds of the dining room decorations and Mrs. A. R. Rowley of the auditorium decorations. The auditorium was well filled with those who stayed in the evening to hear the genial and helpful message of Dr. Robert Freeman of the First Presbyterian church of Pasadena, whose general theme was "Understanding." He touched on many phases of the topic, pleasing everyone who heard him. An organ voluntary by Prof. Harry Garstang and the singing of a hymn was the extent of the music except the closing doxology. Mrs. W. W. Anderson, president of the Woman's Missionary Society, which had the Harvest Home affair in charge, presided, and Mrs. R. J. Blee offered prayer. Dr. Freeman was introduced by Rev. J. A. Stevenson in one of his characteristic speeches. The "Thanksgiving Psalm" was read by Mrs. Anderson, with responses by the congregation. A South American foliage plant with gorgeous scarlet flowers tinged with yellow was used in the auditorium decorations in conjunction with streamers of ferns, producing a most beautiful effect.

A most generous thank offering was received. The time between the serving of the supper, which was served from 5 to 7, was spent socially, and many warm greetings passed between friend and friend. The evening program was ended appropriately with the singing of "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow," and an ardent benediction.

A Correction

Editor Register: I see by news item that T. S. Carmack has sold his home, 104 Ross street, to Ray R. Hupp, who will occupy it as his home.

I wish to correct this item by stating that T. S. Carmack never owned 104 Ross street. He sold his furniture to Mr. Hupp, no more. The property still stands in the name of the under-signed.

Guests of Amphion Circle

A pleasant social evening was spent last night by the young men and women of the First Congregational church as the guests of the Amphion Circle at the home of Prof. and Mrs. Chas. H. Stearns, South Spurgeon street. A short program included a piano solo by Miss Helen Wells, a reading by Miss Berdine Henry and a song sketch by Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Rowland who sang "When You and I Were Young, Maggie," in costume.

An art and curio sale--make-believe--afforded merriment galore. Mrs. Frederick Ely proving to be a clever auctioneer. Partners for the sale were matched by flowers. The acting hostesses of the evening, Mrs. Stearns, Mrs. Blake, Mrs. Goode and the Misses Henry, served sandwiches, pumpkin pie and coffee. The guests were served in a quiet room, the group getting together by means of matching dissected songs. After refreshments each quartette sang the song by which it had won its supper. A large attendance and a delightful time made this one of the most pleasant of recent events held by the circle. Roses were used in decorations.

On last Wednesday evening, November 18, the Art Study Club met with Mrs. Clarkson, corner of Ninth and Spurgeon.

consisting of a talk by Mrs. Padgham on the various exhibition of pictures and arts and crafts at the different galleries in Los Angeles. Especial mention was made of the Wachtel pictures at Merrick Reynolds' gallery and the Arts and Crafts exhibition at Blanchard hall.

Mrs. A. J. Lawton talked on the San Diego Exposition, dwelling especially on the artistic setting and harmony of the whole. Miss Alexander followed with a description of the site and of the buildings of the San Francisco Exposition, illustrating her points by pictures from the recent magazines. Her explanation of the color scheme of the buildings themselves together with the decorations was interesting and instructive.

Mrs. Clarkson closed the program by a reading. During the evening the club enjoyed looking at the water-colors and hand-painted china, all the work of Mrs. Clarkson.

It was decided to change the time of meeting from the third Wednesday of the month to the fourth Monday. The meeting for December will be omitted on account of the Christmas festivities and the time and place of the January meeting will be announced later.

THE INWOOD RECEPTION

Popular Pastor of Methodist Church and Wife Receive People of Their Flock

Rev. and Mrs. E. J. Inwood were host and hostess yesterday afternoon and evening at a reception given to the members and congregation of the First Methodist Church, of which Rev. Mr. Inwood is the beloved and successful pastor.

The parsonage was beautifully decorated with a profusion of flowers, the living-room being gorgeous with poinsettias, ferns and sunlax, while daisies and asparagus fern were used in the dining room.

The members of the official board and their wives and the stewards of the church and their wives were in the receiving line with the host and hostess, and hundreds of friends called during the afternoon and evening receptions.

Buffet refreshments were served, the young ladies doing the honors. The young Mrs. Inwood is teacher, being in the dining room to do the honors.

The event was one of the notable social affairs of this church and the large number of guests indicated the high esteem in which the popular pastor and his wife are held by the members of the church and congregation with which they are associated.

Eleven new registrations have been turned in from San Juan precinct. Each of the eleven will thus be authorized to vote at the election that has been called to break the tie for constable of San Juan township. T. Goodwin and John Combs tied in the primaries, and again in the general election.

RUNAWAY TEAM RUNS INTO AUTO

A runaway team of horses, belonging to Palmer's feed yard, ran into an automobile belonging to John Cubbons. Ninth and French streets, and did about $50 worth of damage to the car at the corner of Broadway and Fifth streets at about 5 o'clock yesterday evening. The team ran south on Broadway and in turning west on Fifth, ran into Cubbons' machine. The animals were slightly bruised.

A VERY INTERESTING DISPLAY OF MATTRESSES

A most remarkable and highly interesting display of unusually fine mattresses is now being shown by the Horton-Spurgeon Furniture Company at their store, corner of Fourth and Spurgeon streets. They have arranged the display in the "Bungalow window," which is the east window of the main salesroom.

This display of mattresses is remarkable because they are the product of a Los Angeles factory, are made of Imperial Valley cotton and for the reason that they show advanced methods of mattress construction. But that is not all, the beauty and luxury of the materials is unusual. Imagine satin mattresses! That is what some of them are. But it is not alone the fact of this—which in itself is an unusual material to see in mattresses, but the way in which they are made is quite as exceptional. There is not a wrinkle where the tufting comes, but all the fullness is sewed tightly so that no creases remain for catching dust. This manner of sewing has also to do with the tautness of the covering, and creates the no-sag quality of the mattress.

In the center of the window a huge square mass of snow white, fluffy, Imperial cotton, about two and one-half feet in height, shows what goes into each of those mattresses. You could never suppose that such a bulk could be compressed into a single mattress. The Imperial Valley cotton is said to have no equal for mattress making as the fiber is exceptionally long. The display of mattresses will remain in the Horton-Spurgeon store for one week, and it is well worth a visit to the store to see them.

Federal Reserve Bank Notes

When on the 16th inst. the new banking system of the United States becomes operative, the Federal Reserve Banks will issue notes in denominations of $5, $10, $20, $50 and $100. A description of the notes follows:

"The $5 bill contains on the left-hand side of the back an engraving of the landing of Columbus and on the opposite side of the back the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers on Plymouth Rock.

"The back of the $10 bill represents a typical manufacturing and agricultural scene, the picture on the left hand side showing a harvesting scene and a modern harvester, while on the right there is a picture of a modern factory in operation.

"The engraving on the back of the $20 bill represents transportation on land and water and in the air, the picture on the left being a modern railroad train, an automobile and an aeroplane, and that on the right an ocean liner in New York Harbor, with the New York skyline and the Statue of Liberty in the background.

"The engraving on the back of the $50 bill is symbolical of the Panama Canal, the centerpiece being a picture of a woman. On one side a transatlantic steamer is shown, and on the other side a battleship, the idea being to represent America presiding over the Panama Canal, the oceans representing the Atlantic and the Pacific.

"An allegorical picture covers the entire back of the $100 bill. There is a central group representing America, with Peace and Plenty on either side. A figure on the left hand end of the note represents Labor bearing the harvest and the figure on the other end represents Mercury distributing the harvest."

Pacific Slope Prosperous

Of the twenty-four railroads in the United States which have cut their dividends since the first of January this year not one of the lines on the Pacific Coast is found in the list.

Of the 122 industrial, public utilities and mining companies that have passed their dividends during the year nine on the Pacific Coast are included. Of these five were oil companies, viz: California Petroleum, Mexican Petroleum, Union Oil, United Petroleum and Union Provident. Three were mining companies, viz: Calumet and Arizona, Shannon Copper, Shattuck-Arizona, while three the Miami Copper, Nevada Consolidated and Ray Consolidated deferred their dividend.

One industrial, the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, is included.

During the year forty-one industrials reduced their dividend only one of which was on the Pacific Slope. This was Wells Fargo Express which cut the dividend from 5 to 3 per cent.

Governors Federal Reserve Banks

Governors of the twelve District Federal Reserve Banks have all been elected. They occupy the same position, relatively, as the president of an ordinary bank, but are not directly responsible to the Government. They are chosen by the directors of the Reserve Banks. Here is the complete list, a partial list having been printed heretofore in The Financial News:

Dist. No.	Reserve Bank	Governor
No.	Bank	Governor
1	Boston	Alfred L. Aiken
2	New York	Benj. Strong, Jr.
3	Philadelphia	Charles J. Rhoads
4	Cleveland	E. R. Fancher
5	Richmond	Geo. J. Seay
6	Atlanta	Joseph A. McCord
7	Chicago	M. B. McDougall
8	St. Louis	Rolla Wells
9	Minneapolis	Theodore Weld
10	Kansas City	Charles M. Sawyer
11	Dallas	Oscar Wells
12	San Francisco	Archibald Kains

Mortgage Bankers Optimistic

Mortgage Bankers of the United States are optimistic over general conditions. The first Annual Convention of the Mortgage Bankers Association was held in Chicago this week. The president, F. W. Thompson, of Chicago, in his address declared that "America is recovering from the shock to business caused by the war in Europe. It is only necessary to call attention to our wonderful resources and our ability to transform into money 900,000,000 bushels of wheat, 80,000,000 bales of cotton, and 2,700,000,000 bushels of corn, together with a vast quantity of live stock and other food produce, to assure our nation of a bountiful prosperity in the coming year."

Lead Is Factor In Exports

Domestic lead has become an important factor in our exports due to the war. Heretofore, according to the Department of Commerce, it has been a negligible quantity. Here are figures which are astonishing. The total exports of domestic lead in ore from March to August, 1914, inclusive, aggregated 72,750,000 pounds, valued at $2,810,000. This is the first record of any such exports. During the four months ending June 1, 40,000,000 pounds of domestic lead were shipped, 13,000,000 pounds to England, 10,000,000 to Germany, 9,500,000 to The Netherlands, 4,250,000 to Belgium, 1,000,000 to Scotland and smaller amounts to Russia and other countries.

Syndicate Calls for Gold

The New York banking syndicate which recently negotiated the sale of $100,000,000 6 per cent. one, two and three-year New York City notes on Wednesday issued a call for payment of the fourth installment—about $7,000,000. The payment of this will be followed by another shipment of gold to Ottawa, to be credited to the Bank of England.

Electors in Los Angeles County

For the general election November 3 in Los Angeles county 309,598 voters have registered of which 173,373 are men, and 136,223 women. This registration, so experts declare, gives the county a population of 804,954.

Mining Industry in California

The Sierra Nevada Mining Company which controls the drainage of the north end of the Comstock mines elected new officers. Herman Zadig, president, A. F. Coffin and Herbert Moise resigned and their places were taken by W. G. Morrow, president; W. E. Sharon, vice president, and James Newlands, treasurer. W. G. Morrow is a son of Robert Morrow, who was underground superintendent of the Comstock mines at the time the big deal was engineered by the late William Sharon. W. E. Sharon was William Sharon's favorite nephew and James Newlands is a nephew of Francis G. Newlands.

The first gold brick from the Mad Ox mill at Whiskytown was received in Redding this week. The ore that yielded the gold came from the new level 100 feet below the old workings. During the past thirty years the ledge was stope out from the 600-foot level to the surface for a distance of 1100 feet. In May the new owners sunk a shaft 100 feet and cross-cut on the vein.

The Snyder consolidation of the Gold Bluff and Oxford mines, near Downieville, is a reality, and extensive operations will result. The noted Oxford ledge will be worked through the lower tunnel of the Gold Bluff mine adjoining, and the extensive mill and water power of the Gold Bluff will be utilized to good advantage.

A fine strike of coarse gold has been made in the Wisconsin North Fork gravel mine at Forest City. The mine is being developed by a San Francisco company under the management of D. E. Hayden.

Pacific Coast Company Annual

Andrew Weir Coming

Oil men in California expect that Andrew Weir, who represents the British syndicate who control the General Petroleum and Union Oil Companies of California, will reach Los Angeles about November 1, he having sailed from London this week. Mr. Weir will be met in New York by Captain John Barneson, president of the General Petroleum Company, and by A. L. Wiel, of San Francisco, general attorney for the company. It is possible, however, that Mr. Weir may return to London without coming to the Coast. His coming to New York is in connection with the payment of interest on the bonds of the General Petroleum Company due November 1 and which it has been said might be defaulted.

War on Loan Sharks

The United Railroads of San Francisco, through Jesse W. Lillenthal its President, has declared war on loan sharks and proposes to create a revolving fund which will pay the company 5 per cent interest for the loans. In order to ascertain how much money the fund will be created, and the task of rescuing the place in this fund, Lillenthal has issued a circular letter to all United Railroads employees, asking them to write him personally, telling him how much they are indebted to loan sharks. With this information fund with which to liquidate their obligations. The men will be undertaken.

New Haven Sues Ex-Officials

Suit to recover $3,900,000 from John L. Billard of Meriden, a former director of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad; Edward D. Robbins of New Haven, former general counsel; Samuel C. Moorehouse of New Haven, who acted as assistant attorney to Robbins; Charles F. Linsley of Meriden, Henry Whipple of New Haven and Samuel Hemenway, the New Haven banker, who formerly was on the board of directors, has been instituted. The action by the railroad company is in conformity with a vote of the directors of the road in July last.

As to Excessive Interest Rates

Governor Walsh of Massachusetts has requested the State Bank Commission to make an immediate investigation of reports "that banks and trust companies of the state were using the situation created by the war to obtain excessive rates of interest on loans, and were declining loans on sufficient collateral, when they had a safe and sufficient surplus on hand."

Grecian Currency System Extended

By royal decree of August 3, 1914, the monetary system of Old Greece and all laws, royal decrees, and international conventions relating to same have been extended to all Greek occupied territory save Crete. In conformance with this law the legal mediums of exchange in the occupied territories are now threefold—Greek Government currency, notes of the Greek National Bank, and Turkish currency.

Siam Likes Our Fruits

California canned fruits are finding a fairly ready market in Bangkok—pears, peaches, and apricots being most in demand. The average retail price for a case of 24 2½-pound tins of assorted fruits is $6 and for 1-pound tins 19 cents per tin. California dried fruits are retailing at 52 to 74 cents per 2-pound tin.

Postal Cuts Brokers Out

The Postal Telegraph Company announces through C. C. Adams, vice-president, that it will discontinue its leases of wires to brokers and that the required thirty-day notice to that effect has been given. The announcement comes as a sequel to the investigation by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

* county, a clause is inserted that
* seems almost certain to give the
* growers fifty cents more per ton
* for their beets than they received
* this year.

* The plan is called profit shar* ing, in that if the price of sugar
* is a fair price, the grower will get
* more for his crop than if sugar is
* down.

* The price to be paid for beets
* is the same as last year, with one * important exception. The grow* ers will receive a bonus of 50 * cents a ton if the average net
* selling price of beet sugar re* ceived by the beet-sugar factories
* of Southern California shall equal
* or exceed 4 1/2 cents a pound dur* ing the period between July 1,
* 1915, and May 1, 1916, the pay* ment of the bonus to be made on * or before July 1, 1916.

* The factories have not yet sold
* their sugar output for the season
* just closing. When sugar was
* low early in the season, some of
* it was sold by Orange county fac* tories for $4.10, but the later sea* son prices received were well
* above $4.50.

* The contracts offered growers
* by the various factories of South* ern California are all the same
* so far as price is concerned.

LOS ANGELES MAY LOSE CHARITY BODY

Los Angeles Examiner: With all the force of a shocking surprise announcement was made yesterday that the United Charities will close its doors and cease its activities on December 1 unless funds for the maintenance of its charitable operations are forthcoming. This body, which conducts outdoor relief work throughout the city and upon which hundreds of needy are dependent for assistance, has received practically no public support for some time and the appropriation made by the city has proved so wholly inadequate to meet the needs of the organization that the board of managers at a meeting last Thursday decided upon suspension.

DO A LITTLE MENTAL PICTURE WORK WILL YOU? Picture in your mind two automobiles up to their hubs in sand or mud. One drives through radius rods good and husky, the other has no radius rods and drives through her rear springs. Well, suppose they each strike an obstruction with one rear wheel which does not touch the other wheel. Can't you just see that thirty horsepower or forty horsepower motor working on a fourteen to one gear ratio, give that differential and that whole rear end an awful hard twisting, wrenching yank? Sure you can see it and if you reason a little, you will understand why that car in a year of hard service will get out of alignment in the rear end, rattle in the differential and wobble in her rear wheels four times as bad as the car that is held straight as a die in perfect alignment by her two husky radius rods.

Interesting question to ask automobile dealer: "Why do you have radius rods in your car selling above two thousand dollars and not in the one selling below?" Try it.
Or, "Why did you have radius rods and full floating axle before you dropped the price $200.00?"

Lots of psychology in the answers to these two.

The fourteenth installment of interesting facts concerning the Studebaker cars will appear in this space Monday.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

The demand for celery from eastern points is growing, according to the carlot dealers, and this is acting as a barrier in local prices. Reports from New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania indicate that celery grown there has been affected this year with a peculiar blight. The standard of the stock is not up to what it should be,
and as rapidly as possible the product is going into consumption, with as little or none reported as going into storage. This storage theory is the basis of the competition California celery has later in the year. The price on celery grown here is about $1.80 a crate, while that coming from the north has for an average a little better than $2.

There was a general good tone to the trading in all lines yesterday morning, and the vegetables were very active. The hothouse cucumber has been practically supplanted the field-grown variety, and pickling cucumbers are entirely of the market. The new stock is selling from 50 to 90 cents a dozen.
The last sweet corn has also been coming in, and there is so little of it left that the majority of dealers have discontinued its quotation. String beans were sufficiently plentiful to sell at 6 cents, and peas sold at about the same figure.

SOMERS PLAN IS SAID HIGHLY EFFICIENT

New Assessing System Said to Make it Impossible to Over-or Undervalue

Los Angeles Tribune: A system of equalizing realty values which provides against over-assessing or under-assessing of city and county property, was demonstrated to the members of the County Board of Efficiency yesterday by Arthur H. Guild, vice president of the Manufacturers' Appraisal Company of Cleveland, O., and M. A.
Grant of Redlands, western representatives of the concern. The valuation method is known as the Somers system. W. A. Somers, former city engineer of St. Paul, Minn., is the inventor.

County Assessor Hopkins was present during the demonstration of the new system. The members of the Board of Efficiency appeared to be exceedingly well pleased with the tests, but reserved final decision. Two cities on the Pacific coast—Redlands and Portland, Ore.—have installed the system. Thirty cities in the United States are using the plan with good results, it is said. In Redlands since the installation of the Somers system, the property valuation was increased $1,500,000, while in Portland, Ore., it reduced land values some $200,000.

Before assessment cities contemplate
the Somers system, a thorough investigation is made by neighborhood conferences as to actual value and not until then is the tax assessment determined.

Under the Somers system it is impossible to over-assess or under-assess property, as is the case with the system in vogue at present. The Somers system is said to be the one system that gives equality assessment.

Before assessment cities contemplate
the Somers system, a thorough investigation is made by neighborhood
conferences as to actual value and not until then is the tax assessment determined.

GARDEN GROVE BURGLARS ARE SCARED; THEY RETURN GOODS

Property Stolen From Store
Recently is Left at Night
on a Lawn

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 21.—Disturbed conscience or fear of being found with goods stolen when the Garden Grove Mercantile Co. store was burglarized was responsible for the return of some of the stolen property.
It is believed that fear prompted the action. It is known that suspicious as to the identity of the burglar were aroused, and that he was liable to be arrested at any time.

Whatever the reason, nearly all of the stolen property, including some of the proprietors of the store had not missed, was dumped on J. T. Mc-Elree's front lawn at night. The small amount of change taken from the cash drawer was returned.

Another burglary that has occurred within the last two weeks was that at the home of Mrs. M. J. Brown. Forty gallons of olives, cured and ready for sale, were stolen.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed With Sulphur it Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Weyth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair.—Advertisement.

Extraordinary Mattress Exploitation

Emphasizing a great industry of Los Angeles and another, equally great, of Southern Calif.
Horton-Spurgeon Furniture Co. Has Arranged a Remarkable Demonstration and Sale of High Quality Mattresses, in Which Wonderfully Low Prices Will Be Especially Featured

—Probably nowhere in the world are better mattresses made than in Los Angeles—Certainly nowhere else have more modern, practical and beneficial ideas been evolved and developed in the manufacturing of mattresses—

—It is a well known fact that Imperial Valley Cotton has proved to be of the very highest type—a fine, long fibered staple that lends itself most resultfully to the uses of makers of high grade cotton products.

The Famous 'Treasure' "Neverstretch" Mattress at $6.50

—should prove an irresistible feature—35 lbs. in weight—Of pure cotton felt—covered with good ticking—Full size. The latest idea in mattress construction, the Neverstretch embodies features not found in other mattresses—All allowance in the ticking for tufting is taken up by being sewed both in length and width—The only tufted mattress that is correct mechanically—(Tufts match top and bottom)—A splendid mattress at a very low price—$6.50.

Our "Sunset" Mattress, remarkable value, $8.50

—A Neverstretch Mattress of better felt—covered with finer ticking—40 lb. weight—A special value for this event—$8.50.

"H.-S. Special" "Neverstretch" Mattress, $13.50

—Weight 45 lbs.—Very unusual in quality—Covered with exceptional ticking, filled with felt of very high quality—$13.50.

Our "Gold State" Mattress, excellent value, $18

—Made of pure white cotton felt, Stockwell "Neverstretch" construction. The ticking used is of the finest—$18.00.

Our "Dreamland" Mattress, good value, $10.75

—The famous Neverstretch construction—45 lb. weight of still better felt, covered with fancy or plain ticking—much underworth—$10.75

Our Perfecto "Neverstretch" Mattress for $15

—Is a remarkably good felt mattress—the best $15.00 mattress made.

Our Land-O-Nod Mattress, great value, $22.50

—This is absolutely the last word in mattress perfection—money can buy no better. It is made of pure white Imperial Valley Cotton felt built up layer upon layer. Very finest of ticking.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT SECOND TIME SPEEDING FINE COMES TO $50

West Orange Youth Gets a Stiff Jolt; Orange Man Wants Jury to Hear It

If you have ever been fined once for speeding, it's $50 minus for you if you are caught again and taken into the same court. That is, supposing the court is Justice Cox's court.

Clarence Hafer of West Orange found that out this morning, and James Meehan of Orange is trembling upon the brink of finding it out.

The state law is very clear upon the point. The penalty for the second offense against the speed laws of the state has a $50 minimum. A justice must either dismiss the case or assess a fine of not less than $50, if the accused person is shown to be guilty.

Some time ago Clarence Hafer, who lives at the corner of North Main street and La Veta avenue, paid a fine for speeding. He has a motorcycle. Motorcycle Officers Ballard and Davenport measured off a trap on the Huntington Beach boulevard near the Ocean View school house. Along came Hafer bound to Huntington Beach to see a basketball game between Orange Union high school, where he is a student, and Huntington Beach. He had a player on his rear seat, and they were late. Hafer's time was taken at fifty miles an hour.

AT THE COURTHOUSE BRINGS A SUIT OVER APRICOTS

Firm Says it Contracted for Them for Five Cents, Now Worth Six Cents

Rosenberg Bros. & Co. have brought an action against J. W. and George E. Grigsby and the California National Bank for $1130 or possession of dried apricots alleged to be worth that amount. The complaint filed today states that on November 3 the plaintiff contracted to buy 9½ tons of apricots from the Grigsbys for five cents, and that apricots are now worth six cents. It is stated that on the authority of the Grigsbys Smith and Miner issued warehouse receipts to the bank, for the dried fruit.

MOST WOMEN KNOW

How to Economize
When It's Necessary

If ever there was a time in the history of the country when it was necessary for the family in average circumstances to economize, that time is now.

Nearly all food stuffs are advancing in price, more especially meat. But fortunately there is at least one staple article of diet that will not be advanced at present—and not at all unless the cost of raw materials absolutely forces higher prices.

We refer to H-O Oatmeal, which is an excellent substitute for meat, and will even take the place of bread to a considerable extent. But be sure you get H-O Oatmeal. No other brand of oatmeal is "just as good." Don't let anyone tell you that it is.

H-O Oatmeal contains elements essential to health and strength in a greater proportion than any other food that we know of; the most important of these being protein, which builds tissue; and carbohydrates, which supply heat and energy.

Notice the rich color of H-O Oatmeal when you open the air-tight moisture-proof package in which it comes to you from the grocer. H-O Oatmeal has become a national breakfast dish.—Advertisement.

Quiet Title Cases

An action to quiet title to the lot at the southeast corner of Sixth and Spurgeon streets has been brought by the W. H. Spurgeon Realty Company against the First Presbyterian church of Santa Ana. Attorneys Scarborough & Forgy for the plaintiff, produce a copy of the records of the Presbyterian church of May 1, 1885, showing that at that time a resolution was passed by which $250 was paid W. H. Spurgeon and a deed to the lot at Sixth and Spurgeon given him in exchange for a lot at the corner of Sixth and Sycamore. H. G. Kernodle was president of the church's trustees and R. W. Grant secretary. The action is an amicable one, the church claiming no interest in the property. B. E. Tarry appears as attorney for the church.

F. A. and Maude Thompson are plaintiffs against S. A. W. Carver and others to quiet title to three lots at El Modena. Scarborough & Forgy are attorneys for the plaintiffs.

Mechanic's Lien
Frank and W. H. Carpenter have brought suit on a mechanic's lien for $400.20, against Mary S. Moore and S. B. Heading for work done by the plaintiffs upon the Star Theater building, Glassell street, Orange. H. C. Head and F. C. Drumm are attorneys for the plaintiffs.

BLUE-BLOODED PUPS TO LIVE LIKE KINGS TODAY

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21.—Long lines of big limousines carrying elegantly-clad society matrons drew up before one of the finest hotels of this city today. Uniformed lackeys silently opened the doors of the weather-proof vehicles and the women sedately stepped to the carpeted entrance in turn ensconced from the gusts of wind by a canopy. Each of the women carried in her arms a tiny bundle, wrapped in delicate, silken robes, such as a baby born to wealth might own.

In the lobby, the women paused a moment, parted the robes, revealing the most blue-blooded of dogdom in Philadelphia, Airdele terriers. Each was groomed to appear his very best; each exhaled a slight odor of the perfume that had scented the bosom of its mistress and each was saucy and perky.

Philadelphia society women were having their annual Airdele Terrier Dog Show. One small strip of blue ribbon was the mark of distinction coveted by all.

DO NOT PUT OFF PAYING TAXES TO LAST DAY

Letters Received Just Before November 30 Cannot Be Answered for Ten Days

Mr. Taxpayer, Mrs. Taxpayer, Miss Taxpayer, corporations, companies, firms and partnerships, keep in mind the fact that the first installment of county taxes will become delinquent at 6 p. m., November 30—Monday—the last day of this month.

County Tax Collector J. C. Lamb has asked that an announcement something like the above be made. He further urges that payment the first of next week will be an accommodation to his office. There will be scores of people who will wait until the last day and stand in line for half an hour watching to be waited upon. There will be enough of them without you. So pay your taxes the first of next week. Better yet, get out your tax bill, from which you can get the amount you owe the commonwealth. Write out a check for the amount. Inclose check with bill, and mail them to the county tax collector.

"Those who wait until the last few days to send their checks by mail will not get their receipts for perhaps ten days," said Lamb. "We will be swamped with mail. Those who write letters asking if they have paid their taxes—it would surprise you how many people get scarce up after they have paid their taxes and cannot remember whether they paid this year's taxes or not—cannot be answered for perhaps ten days."

Taxes came in lively today. A feature of this year's payments is that a great many persons who ordinarily pay both first and second installments in one payment are now paying only the first.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION INSURANCE O. M. ROBBINS & SON

SANTA ANA, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 21, 1914.

GREAT BUSINESS AND OFFICE BUILDING PRACTICALLY COMPLETED--HANDSOME SPURGEON BLOCK IS CREDIT TO CITY

When, in 1869, William Henry Spurgeon rode over the present site of Santa Ana, breaking his way through a growth of mustard higher than his head as he sat on horseback, he prophesied in his own soul that here should arise a town. He climbed a sycamore tree in order to see how the land lay, and then he prophesied that the town would become a city.

Mayhap, even then in his imagination, he saw the gleaming walls of the W. H. Spurgeon building, just completed, arise on the site that he picked out for his pioneer store building.

No, he could hardly have pictured the beautiful building then, nor any one else, even in the most vivid imagination, for such buildings were unknown in those days.

Could he have imagined that he would live to see the day when the earth he looked out upon would be the site of a city of more than 13,000 people, the county seat of a county with a population of 50,000?

A Marvelous Change

Whatever the thoughts that went through his mind that day, Mr. Spurgeon has lived to see the most wonderful change. From a mustard patch the country has grown into the marketing of millions of dollars worth of produce. In that development the pioneer has had a most important part. The same faith and foresight that led him to lay out a townsite around that sycamore tree up which he climbed in October, 1869, led him to father enterprises that have had a material part in bringing this valley to its present high state of cultivation and productivity.

Mr. Spurgeon, a native of Kentucky, raised in Indiana, made two trips to California before he finally settled here. The first was in 1852, after which he spent four years in the gold mines, and saw service in the Rogue River Indian war. The second journey found him in Los Angeles in 1867, and his third trip brought him here. Santa Ana was then a part of the Santiago de Santa Ana grant, divided up in 1867 in the Los Angeles Superior Court as the result of the suit of A. Stearns vs. L. Cota. There was allotted to Zenobia Yorba de Rowland 7425 acres, and this land was bought by Mr. Spurgeon on October 27, 1869, from Ana M. Chavez, widow of Vicente Martinez. According to the deed on record the consideration was $594.

Keeps Old Spanish Name

With George Wright of Los Angeles as surveyor, Mr. Spurgeon laid out a townsite. He called the place Santa Ana, selecting the name from the of the grant, Santiago de Santa Ana. In later years, other pioneers wanted the founder to change the name to Spurgeon, but he declined to consent to a desertion of the euphonious Spanish appellation for Saint Ann.

The original townsite consisted of twenty-four blocks, bounded by First, Spurgeon, Seventh and West (now Broadway) streets. The founder built a store building there, the Gil-macher block now stands, of redwood nailed on straight up and down. A small stock of merchandise was put in.

When Mr. Spurgeon established his store, the stage line between Los Angeles and San Diego was two or three miles to the east. The first bit of diplomacy that was needed to help out the new town came in getting the course of the stage changed. Mr. Spurgeon had a road cut through the mustard, and Santa Ana became a stopping place for the stage. Mr. Spurgeon was the postmaster and Wells-Fargo agent.

In a few years Mr. Spurgeon's store was moved to a new building, erected at the southwest corner of Sycamore and Fourth.

Three Buildings on Site

Since the time he founded the city of Santa Ana nearly fifty years ago and built his first store building where the Gil-macher block now stands, of redwood boards nailed straight up and down, Wm. H. Spurgeon, "the father of Santa Ana," has seen three buildings go up at the corner of Fourth and Sycamore streets. The first of these was a two-story frame structure, afterwards moved to where the new postoffice building now stands and which was torn down about one year ago preparatory to the erection of the postoffice building. The second was wrecked last spring to be replaced by the modern four-story steel and brick block that is now being completed at a total cost of more than $100,000.

Santa Anans who have watched the progress of the work from the time that the razing of the old Spurgeon building was begun until the present time have grown so accustomed to the idea of Santa Ana having a modern four-story store and office building that they have been apt to lose sight of the tremendously important bearing the erection of the new block has upon the commercial and industrial life of the city.

Precedent for Others

The very fact that an investment company such as the W. H. Spurgeon Realty Company has had sufficient faith in the future of Santa Ana to warrant the building of a store and office block of the size and general

Story of Construction and Sketches of Men Who Designed and Built It--Interesting Information About Progressive Business and Professional Firms Who Are Tenants worth of the Spurgeon building is of itself a wonderful boost for the city. Once a step like this is taken in a hustling and growing city like Santa Ana it is not long before other investors step into line with building plans.

The relative merit of the old-style one and two-story store and office building and the modern, steam-heated, convenient office building forms an important question in the minds of all business men of the twentieth century city. The advantages of each method of housing modern business concerns seem to be offset by the corresponding disadvantages, but it would appear that in most cities the obvious attractions and conveniences of the office building of more than two stories are rapidly prevailing over the older method of individual, and more widely scattered, stores and offices.

Appointments Splendid

In Southern California, which is so largely a land of out-of-doors, the question takes on some purely local characteristics. The four-story building just completed by the W. H. Spurgeon Realty Company has been designed to retain the out-of-doors spirit and individuality of the separate office with all the conveniences and advantages of the latter. The interior offices of the building surround a large court which admits to the offices ample light and air. A first-class elevator system has been installed and by means of this all offices are reached quickly and conveniently. The fact that in one office building of four or more stories there may be, and are, accommodated as many business firms as are ordinarily found in one city block of the old type is of itself one of the greatest advantages of this type of building.

Each office is provided with hot and cold water, steam heat and every convenience that would be found in the largest office buildings in the country. Perfect ventilation and the most approved sanitary features known to modern building, have been closely followed in the construction of the building and apparently not a single item in this respect has been omitted. Of the one hundred office rooms there is not a single room that is not well lighted and ventilated. There is not one of those ill-lighted poorly ventilated rooms commonly called "inside rooms." Even the hallways are all wide and airy and well lighted.

Personnel of Company

Too much credit cannot be given R. L. Bisby, manager of the W. H. Spurgeon Realty Company and the man who planned and carried out the work from start to finish. Mr. Bisby was really "the man behind the gun." It was he who devised ways and means for financing the enterprise and he who has been the active head and manager, who has stayed on the job, overcoming each obstacle as it was encountered.

A word in regard to the personnel of the W. H. Spurgeon Realty Company will not be amiss. The president of the company is W. H. Spurgeon, known far and near as "The Father of Santa Ana," the vice president of the company is Mrs. W. H. Spurgeon. Mrs. R. L. Bisby is the secretary and R. L. Bisby the agent for the company and its general manager.

Employment for Many

It is not generally known to what a great extent the erection of a block such as the Spurgeon building adds a city through the giving of employment to a large body of mechanics and artisans in all lines. During the week ending May 23 of this year there were 43 workmen employed on the new building. Most of these men were carpenters and bricklayers. Since September 1 28 painters have been working steadily.

The work of tearing down the old Spurgeon building was begun in a small way about the middle of August, 1913. On January 1, 1914 the work of razing the building began in earnest, though some of the tenants still occupied rooms. It was not until February 28 that the wrecking of the old building was completed. On March of this year was begun the work of putting in the concrete foundation for the new building which is expected to be entirely completed to the last detail in about one month's time. Taking these facts into consideration the actual time that has been taken for the erection of the building has been very short.

HOW THE SPURGEON BLOCK WAS FINANCED

One of the first problems encountered in any of the larger enterprises in which men engage, is how to finance their propositions. Whether it is the construction of a railroad, a factory, or a large building, obviously the initial move is to secure the necessary capital. Many times this is not as easy a matter as the average person may think.

Long before the public knew anything about their plans, the W. H. Spurgeon Realty Company was looking over the field for some capitalist or financial institution that would be in a position to finance their proposed building operations. They preferred, if it was possible to do so, to secure the necessary capital here at home, and as a very large sum of ready cash would be required they realized this was quite a formidable undertaking. The matter was finally taken up with W. A. Zimmerman, president of the Orange County Savings & Trust Company, who, with the assistance of George W. Minter, found that through their associates they would be able to furnish the large sums of money needed, on advantageous terms to the builders.

In this connection it is not amiss to add, the Mr. Zimmerman and his associates in the Orange County Savings & Trust Company, have not only rendered a signal service to the Spurgeon Realty Company, but in so doing have helped to secure for Santa Ana a splendid building and one that every citizen of this city may be proud of.

ROUGH LUMBER FURNISHED BY PENDLETON LUMBER COMPANY

The rough lumber put into the construction of the new Spurgeon Building was all purchased from the Pendleton Lumber Company. Looking at the fine structure from the street, one gets little idea of the amount of rough lumber required. The order was a huge one. All told, it amounted to over 300,000 feet. The rough inchboards for the roof and sub-floor amounted to over six carloads, while the flooring proper consumed 53,000 feet of 1 by 4 No. 1 flooring. This flooring covers every room in the building outside of the lavatories and entrance, which are tile floors. The frame work of the building also consumed another large quantity of rough lumber.

The contract called for first-class material. The wording of the contract proved to the people of Santa Ana that, when furnishing such material is open to competitive bidding, Santa Ana firms can furnish material to Santa Ana people cheaper than outside firms. Once in a while one hears that lumber is cheaper elsewhere. That is not true. In such matters one will do well to examine the lumber, for there are as many grades of material as there are prices.

The lumber furnished by the Pendleton Lumber Company was up to the specifications without any controversy or turning back of material. The company's reputation for fair dealing was exemplified in this contest.

INTERIOR WOOD WORK MADE BY GRIFFITH MILL

Many a person has gone into the Spurgeon Realty Co. building and spent a long time examining and admiring the wood work. Experts in the building line have found it a pleasure to look the building over, and chief among the attractions is the mill work. They find that the finishing lumber is of high grade and admirably milled. That is true of the product of the Griffith Lumber Company wherever one may find it, and with the immense amount of finishing work that goes in to a big building, such as this, is one may judge of the quality of work turned out by that firm.

The Spurgeon Building is 100 feet on Sycamore street and 135 feet on Fourth street. The store fronts on both streets contain polished plate glass, 2600 square feet of glass being used in these fronts.

Above the plate glass a band of prism extends the entire length of these two sides of the building. About 1000 square feet of this glass was used. The prism glass scatters the light in such a way as to light up the ceiling and walls and adds a feature to the new stores very noticeable to a person visiting them for the first time. All of the plate and prism glass was furnished by the Griffith Lumber Company.

The supporting columns at the front of each store are cased with plate glass mirrors. The vestibule is finished in birch with bevel plate glass in the doors.

Each floor contains thirty-eight of ice rooms, with large, well-lighted corridors. There are 400 doors in the building and 350 windows, requiring nearly five miles of casings, had the casing been laid out in a straight line. Two and one-half miles each of base, picture moulding and base moulding were used. All doors and windows opening from the corridors to offices are glazed with a beautiful Florentine glass.

The interior is finished throughout with Oregon pine, with the exception of the stairways, which contain both Oregon pine and maple.

Altogether the finish on this building is admirable. The glass shows quality and the woodwork has the easily discernible marks of excellent workmanship.

NICKEY HARDWARE COMPANY DID THE CORNICE WORK

The cornice work, the tower and metal work on the skylight were all done by the Nickey Hardware Company of Santa Ana. While the amount of material involved in the doing of this part of the building is small, the actual labor necessary was large, and the skill is something worth sitting down and talking about.

A large amount of work and time were required to get the parts ready for the tower. That is why, all through the summer months, the passer-by saw may semi-circles of galvanized iron in the Nickey Hardware Company shop. Every bit of the labor connected with this firm's share in the building was done by Santa Ana people with the exception of a few small ornamental pieces which also required some local work before they could be placed in position.

The metal work had to be done before and after other construction operations on the building. The Nickey Hardware Company was always ready to fit into conditions and did not allow any delay to occur. The company's work has been highly commended.

Plastering Done by Grouard & Young

The contract for plastering the W. H. Spurgeon Building was let to Grouard & Young and is said to be the largest single plastering contract ever let in Orange county. The contract called for sand finish two-coat work throughout the building, and amounted to 20,000 yards.

The large light court was done with metal lath and Portland cement plaster, making it proof against the elements.

Probably the greatest test of the plasterer's ability is shown in the vestibule, where the walls and ceiling are done in a snow white, smooth surface, hard plaster, with an ornamental cornice breaking the angle at the ceiling. The owners of the building cannot say too much for the plastering work done by Grouard & Young, and the clean, neat and workmanlike manner in which they handled the job. The results of their work are more than satisfactory to the owners of the building, and is a job which the contractors may point to with pride.

Plumbing Job is Biggest in City

Undoubtedly the largest single job of plumbing ever done in Santa Ana was that done on the W. H. Spurgeon block. The plumbing contract for the building was awarded to John McFadden, the pioneer plumber of Orange county, and the fact that T. F. Harmon, the architect's superintendent, has pronounced it the best job of plumbing he ever saw put in, is a sufficient testimony to the kind of plumbing work done by McFadden.

It will be interesting to note that there are over 150 fixtures in the building and that more than 8000 feet of pipe was used in the plumbing, exclusive of the steam heating plant.

There are about 115 lavatories in the building, about thirty toilets and slop sinks. There is also gas piped to every room in the building. There is probably no better plumbing work to be found anywhere than that done by McFadden in the Spurgeon block.

T. F. Harmon, Superintendent

In all building operations there must be some man on the job who is there as an attraction—a man who looks about him and who knows what he sees—a man whose judgment tells him whether it is the right class of work.

The Spurgeon Realty Co. has been very fortunate in securing the services of Mr. T. F. Harmon as its superintendent. Mr. Harmon has not only helped to build up Santa Ana, but has helped to tear it down. In his characteristic way he has had things moving up and things moving down.

Mr. Harmon on this job has held a dual position, being both foreman for the builders and the architect's superintendent, both of which positions he has filled to the entire satisfaction of all concerned. He deserves great credit for the care he has used in keeping the streets and sidewalks clear during the work of construction.

Mr. Harmon has decided to make Santa Ana his home and will engage in general contracting and building.

Painting by J. W. Mitchell

When the important matter of painting the W. H. Spurgeon Building was up for consideration, it was decided that the man who handled this part of the work must be not only a thoroughly competent workman himself, but must have ideas of right colors and material and above all must be a man of unquestioned integrity.

The color scheme of the paint, together with the artistic handling of the same, were under the direction of

Mr. J. W. Mitchell, a man who has been in Santa Ana long enough to raise a family who now have a family of their own, consequently he is sometimes called "Grandpa" Mitchell, but while that family title may apply to him in the family line it does not apply to him in his work. He is a graduate of the old school of painting, and in his work on this job has shown a particular adaptability in the handling of his color scheme and the application of same.

F. H. McElree, of Paint Store

When the builders of the big building began to get prices on paint, it was found that F. H. McElree of the Santa Ana Paint Store could furnish paint and paint materials at better prices than they could be purchased in Los Angeles. That is why the Santa Ana Paint Store furnished over half the paint used on the building.

It took a lot of paint, too. Over 1000 pounds of white lead, one drum of turpentine, over a barrel of varnish, eight barrels of calcimine and more than a barrel of imported dry zinc were used. The zinc was used in painting the skylight woodwork so that the very best light could be secured through the skylight. The best of materials were used throughout the structure. It was demonstrated that Santa Ana can furnish materials for painting any building, regardless of size, likely to be put up in this county. Mr. McElree proved this to the entire satisfaction of the builders.

Grove and Wilson

A hustling, reliable firm of real estate men is that known as Grove & Wilson, composed of H. R. Grove and R. P. Wilson. They have leased Room 211 in the new block. While the firm is to make a specialty of Balboa and East Newport lots, it is also likely to develop an acreage business that will make the firm known among those watching ranch deals. The partners are handling East Newport Townsite Company lots.

Mr. Grove came from Minneapolis last May and bought a ranch at Tusin, where he built a new home. Mr. Wilson, the other member of the enterprising firm, is from East Newport, where he has been engaged in the real estate business for several years.

Wm. L. Innes
The marble and tile work on the building was done by Wm. L. Innes, who has been in the marble and granite business in Santa Ana for many years.

The entrances to the stores and the floors of the lavatories are of tile construction. A border of dark tile surrounds the light tile of each entrance, while the main entrance to the building has the name, "W. H. Spurgeon Building" spelled out by use of the dark tile.

The marble used is a beautiful light gray with darker veins and streaks. It is the Token Alaskan marble, one of the finest marbles quarried, and is superior to any that can be found nearer than Alaska. This marble is used as a base below the windows of the various stores, and in deep base in the vestibule and on the steps of the main entrance leading to the second floor.

Mr. Innes has had many contracts for granite and marble works in Santa Ana, but no one contract where a single building in this city required the amount of marble used in the new Spurgeon Building.

Mr. Innes is now engaged in building a beautiful mausoleum at the Anaheim Cemetery.

I. Livingspire, 832 Ross Street

When you come to count brick by the hundred thousand, you are getting into a large job. It took 500,000 brick to build the Spurgeon Building. Those brick were placed under the direction of I. Livingspire, a competent brick mason and contractor. The brick work cost about $12,000. Sixty days were required for his end of the job, ten men working all the time. White enameled brick were used for facing on the two streets, and new red brick on the alley. Some brick saved from the old Spurgeon building were worked into the walls, which were found by the architects to be absolutely true and according to the specifications. The Spurgeon building contract was the largest yet handled by Mr. Livingspire in this county, but the job ought to insure him consideration from any person desiring brick contracting.

PROGRESSIVE BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN WHO WILL OCCUPY THE NEW SPURGEON BLOCK

W. H. Spurgeon as he appeared breaking ground for the new four-story building, corner Fourth and Sycamore

White Cross Drug Store
Go where you will and look at drug stores such as a city the size of Santa Ana should support and you will not find one better arranged or more attractively finished both from a standpoint of beauty and cleanliness than the White Cross Drug Store which, with E. L. Madden as manager, occupies the corner room of the new Spurgeon Building. The store is at the corner of Fourth and Sycamore streets. The arrangement of the store was planned by architects in order that Mr. Madden might work out his own ideas and at the same time have everything take its proper place. The soda fountain at the front, which is approached directly from the doors at the corner entrance, is in keeping with the other fixtures of the store. It is made attractive with marble base and top, with large mirrors and ornaments, and a feature is the "white cross."

Every available space is used for displaying goods. Most of the space is enclosed in glass show cases or by closed shelves along the walls. The inside of the wall enclosures is painted black, while the outside is white. These colors combine to display articles to the best advantage and also to make the store lighter and more sanitary in appearance and in fact.

A secluded part of the store under the mezzanine floor, which will be the prescription room, is filled with booths for serving the soda fountain delicacies.

To see the window display will be a sufficient inducement for everyone to go in and see much that cannot be told in a brief description. The fourth street window is fitted with glass shelves for displaying glassware and similar articles. The Sycamore street window is backed by the wall cases and has a rich green velvet curtain which forms the display.

Inside and out the "white cross" idea is worked into the glass and other ornaments about the store.

It is needless to say that this store will be favorably commented on by visitors to Santa Ana as one of the attractions which make a lasting impression.

Robertson & Packard

The electrical wiring and placing of all electrical apparatus was done by one of Santa Ana's expert electrical firms, Robertson & Packard. That this firm performed its work well is evidenced by the remarkable fact that all the wiring, which was done under the supervision of J. B. Winters, the firm's superintendent, was put in without a single mistake. Instances like this are very few in a job of the size of this one, and reflects greatly in favor of the firm that did the work so carefully.

About 26,000 feet, or nearly five miles of wire were used on this building. There are nearly 900 outlets or cut-offs. The building contains about 850 lights, there being two mazda tungsten lights to each drop fixture. Over the entrance will be placed a 24-inch ball containing the newest invention, the nitrogen lamp, of 1000 watt power. This light will light up the street as well as the entrance.

This firm is also wiring for the large clock which the tower will contain. This standard time clock will be beautifully illuminated at night by electric lights in the background.

"Yes, it's a grand sight," is what is heard on every hand the first night all the lights of the building were on.

Robertson & Packard seem to be grabbing many big contracts. They just finished Inglewood Union High School, the contract for wiring being $3500 and for fixtures $1500.

INSURANCE THE BASIS OF BUILDING ENTERPRISES

Insurance has been a big factor in the erection of Santa Ana's largest mercantile building. "No insurance, no Spurgeon Building," is rather a strong statement, but men familiar with the large part insurance plays in financial affairs claim that without various kinds of policies as a safeguard, capital could never be induced to invest in property where fire might in a few moments destroy thousands of dollars in value, or accidents involve claims for enormous sums.

The Spurgeon Realty Company has always protected its investments with ample insurance. From the time the workmen commenced wrecking the old two story building, the Spurgeons have taken no chances on accidents to either their own employees or the general public. Unlimited workmen's compensation insurance and public liability insurance have both been carried, the policies being written by O. M. Robbins & Son, which firm makes a specialty of this class of business.

It is practically impossible to erect a great building like the Spurgeon block without some accidents. Manager Bisby and Superintendent Harmon have carefully protected hazardous points with guards and rails, but in spite of the best care there have been a score or more of accidents. These have ranged all the way from a fractured vertebra with doctor, drug and ambulance bills, and large payments for loss of wages. All of these accidents have been handled through the office of O. M. Robbins & Son. This local firm has perfected a system whereby their policyholders are relieved of any worry or care after an accident is reported. Doctor, hospital and drug bills, and all the incidental reports are handled direct by Robbins & Son, and all payments to the injured employees are made through their office. Any employer of labor who is familiar with the red tape of handling industrial accidents under the new law will appreciate such service as this firm gives to its clients.

The Spurgeon Realty Company placed fire insurance on the new building at an early stage of its construction, and has kept it fully insured at all times. The policies have been written to cover not only the building itself, but all the material to be used in completing it. All this business has been placed locally. Manager Bisby is familiar with insurance conditions in Los Angeles, Long Beach, and other Southern California points, and his action in placing all the Spurgeon Building policies locally is high testimony to the rates and service given by the local insurance men.

A Santa Ana insurance man recently stated "the Spurgeon block is one of the most completely insured buildings in this city. Nothing is left to chance. The building is insured against fire. Employees and the public are insured against accidents. The elevator is regularly inspected by an insurance company and the inspection guaranteed by a large policy. The plate glass is insured against breakage. And the Spurgeon people, in buying those policies, placed every cent of the business with local men, and with men who make insurance a profession—not a mere side line."

Christian Science Reading Rooms
Among the first to engage quarters in the new Spurgeon block was the Christian Science free reading rooms. Previously the reading room had been in the church building and the removal was for the purpose of being more centrally located.

The reading rooms occupy Rooms 405 and 406, which front on Fourth street, and are admirably adapted to the purpose, being quiet and well lighted. They are open to the public from 11:30 a. m. until 5:30 p. m. every day except Sunday.

The rooms are costly furnished and are provided with Christian Science books and publications that any one is welcome to come and read during the hours the rooms are open. Mrs. Louisa Gebhardt, the librarian, is in charge of the reading rooms, and is always ready to attend the wants of those visiting the rooms.

Capital Security Company
The Capital Security Co., Inc. of Norfolk, Va., is a recent arrival in Orange county, with offices in the new Spurgeon Building.

The office is in charge of Mr. P. R. Atwood, whose title is District Agent. This company makes first mortgage loans at 5 per cent interest and the loans are payable in easy monthly payments including principal and interest. They conduct their business on the contract plan, prospective borrowers making preliminary application for loan, on which they pay in $6.00 per month per thousand until time of making loan by the company is reached. The contract holder then surrenders his contract and stops making any further payment on same and becomes a borrower, giving as security a first mortgage on approved real estate or farm lands. "The company deducts 25 per cent out of the contract money for expenses and credits the balance, with 5 per cent interest, to the loan, and the borrower then commences to pay back his loan monthly, $7.50 principal and $2.14 interest on the thousand."

Mr. Atwood also handles stocks and bonds and general investments. The office is located on the fourth floor of the building, in room 411.

Sam Stein First In

Sam Stein, with a brand new stationery store, is in the new Spurgeon Building, at 210 West Fourth street. His was the first store to occupy quarters in the new building. Mr. Stein knew that considerable supplies would be needed when school opened, and he was determined that everybody should get any supplies needed, even if his room was not quite ready. So he moved in early.

Mr. Stein has been adding to his stock since he opened the store until "seems to have about everything you think he hasn't." He aims to handle a large number of articles not so commonly used, yet wanted badly when needed, besides the usual lines carried by stationery stores.

He has the Volland line of cards, booklets, etc., having secured the exclusive agency for Santa Ana. He also has the Santa Ana agencies for the Los Angeles Rubber Stamp Co., the Waterman Ideal Fountain Pens, and the Conklin Self-filling Fountain Pen.

Mr. Stein makes use of those display windows in a way to stop the passer-by. His Halloween display was run by electricity, the instruments used being the toy electrical instruments kept in stock by Mr. Stein.

Sam Stein was for years the representative of a wholesale house handling stationery, school supplies and toys, and from his experience with stationery stores throughout the country covered by him on his trips he is enabled to know just what a stationery store ought to carry. A stock such as he carries is fittingly a part of a building the size of the new Spurgeon Building, where so many people are constantly needing office supplies.

United Protective Life Association

The United Protective Life Association, an organization composed of Orange county's successful business men of recognized business ability, has its headquarters in Rooms 313, 314, 315 and 316 on the third floor of this magnificent new building.

The California Mutual Life Insurance Company was contemplating moving its offices to Santa Ana. That company and the United Protective got together and decided to make one strong company, a company that will be a credit to Orange county. A glance at the names of the officers and directors is sufficient to convince the most skeptical that Santa Ana will be known among insurance men as the home of a large life insurance company. Officers are: W. A. Zimmerman, president; Frank I. Wheat, vice-president; Chas. Eygabroad, vice-president; L. O. Culp, secretary, and Albert R. Hervey, assistant secretary. All are Orange county men. A. E. Van Doozer, an insurance man of considerable experience, ability and reputation, is the only one of the board of directors not long a resident of Orange county.

A short time ago the new company completed its first full year as a business organization. On October 20th one year ago the first seven contracts for $4,000 insurance were written. At the end of the year there was $625,000 of insurance on their books, and the amount is growing rapidly. The company's offices are on the third floor facing on Sycamore street. They are fitted up with new furniture and business devices necessary to facilitate the handling of the volume of business a home office will have to take care of.

To have such an organization in Santa Ana and Orange county means the bringing of capital to Orange county from all parts of the United States wherever a person takes out insurance with this company. The new building offers the location necessary to "house" such organizations.

Peterson's $2.50 Shoes

A storeful of shoe values is to be found in the room occupied by R. C. Peterson in the new Spurgeon Building at 314 North Sycamore street. Peterson's $2.50 shoes made his store on North Main street a popular one, but added attractiveness in the new location will again shove the store ahead in popularity. Square dealing and good values have won Peterson's an excellent patronage. Newest shoe store fixtures, splendid display windows, prism glass in the lighting system, will add to the store's effectiveness. The store will always be kept up-to-date, and with R. C. Peterson in charge there is no question but that the public is going to be pleased with the treatment accorded it.

Dr. H. S. Gordon

Prominent among the medical profession of Orange county for more than a dozen years, courteous and kindly to all with whom he comes in contact, Dr. H. S. Gordon has won for himself a host of friends, who will heartily congratulate him upon the splendid suite of office rooms he has just moved into in the new Spurgeon block.

For twelve years before the old Spurgeon building was torn away the doctor had his offices there, moving temporarily to the old postoffice building while the new Spurgeon Building was being built.

The doctor occupies Rooms 306, 307 and 322 on the third floor. His reception parlor and consultation room overlook Fourth street and are both large, cheerful rooms. These rooms have a pleasing home effect at variance with the old fashioned druggist's doctor's office. The absence of drug odors is due to the fact that the doctor has a room across the hall from his reception room, where his medicines are kept and which is used as a laboratory and where such minor operations as do not require hospital treatment are performed.

It is scarcely necessary to add that the doctor as well as his many visitors is enthusiastic over his new location.

BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL OCCUPANTS SPURGEON BLOCK

Rossiter & Paul
In Rooms 205, 206 and 207 are located the dental offices of Drs. Rossiter and Paul. Here are undoubtedly a set of the best equipped and most conveniently located dental operating rooms in Southern California.

The entrance to the suite is Room 205, which is fitted up as a reception or waiting room. This room is well lighted and tastefully furnished for the comfort and convenience of patients waiting to be treated. From this room a door leads to room 206, which has been subdivided into a ladies' dressing room and two of the three operating rooms. The ladies' dressing room has all the conveniences for the comfort of lady patients. The operating rooms are all equipped with modern electrical appliances, sterilizers, fountain cuspidors, etc.

Room 207, which is entered from a passageway from 206, has the third operating room, equipped in the same manner as the others, and the laboratory, which is in charge of a laboratory man who devotes his entire time to laboratory work. This laboratory is an interesting place. Here are installed machines for making gold and aluminum plates, crown and bridge work, vulcanizers, etc.

Drs. Rossiter and Paul can well be proud of their new office, which is a monument to their work as dentists and their integrity as business men. They came to Orange county seven years ago and started first at Orange. As their practice increased they opened an office in Santa Ana, where they have been located at the corner of Fourth and Main streets over the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank. Before coming to California Dr. Rossiter practiced dentistry in Nebraska and attended a course of lectures in both Omaha and Kansas City, later coming to Los Angeles, where he was located before coming to Orange.

Dr. Paul attended the dental college in Chicago and practiced dentistry in Columbus, Nebraska nine years before coming to California to enter partnership with his former co-worker in Nebraska, Dr. Rossiter. Recently the doctors disposed of their Orange office and now devote their entire time to their Santa Ana practice.

Dr. Patton's Dental Office

Dr. M. A. Patton has moved his dental offices from the Rowley building to Rooms 303 and 304 of the new Spurgeon Building. Room 304 is a well arranged and cheerful reception room also shared by Dr. Ross.

Dr. Patton has been practicing in Santa Ana since 1903. He is a graduate of Northwestern University dental school, and is recognized here as careful and successful.

His practice room has many commendable features. The light is abundantly sufficient. There is plenty of room about the chair, and yet the instruments are arranged close at hand. In the dressing room is a couch often welcomed by those who desire a few minutes' rest. The work-room is a model of neatness. These features are all found in Dr. Patton's offices.

Dr. Patton has a splendidly equipped dental office, several years of successful practical experience with a university training as a foundation, and he now has as desirable a location as could be found. He has a wide circle of friends who wish him continued and increasing success.

Ellis Realty Co. in Room 333

The firm of Ellis & Ellis, formerly located at 106½ East Fourth street, is now occupying Room 333 of the new Spurgeon Building. The firm is now known as the Ellis Realty Company, composed of J. N. Ellis and Louis Bushard.

The firm's one room is partitioned off by a railing into an inner office and reception room. The room is carpeted and has comfortable chairs for those waiting for their turns to transact business, and suitable office furniture for the firm.

The realty company will continue to do a general real estate business which they find to be improving for the coming winter. Already they have done a nice line of work since moving into their new office. The company occupies a well lighted, pleasant room and the elevator brings its customers right to the door on the third floor.

Dr. J. M. Burlew

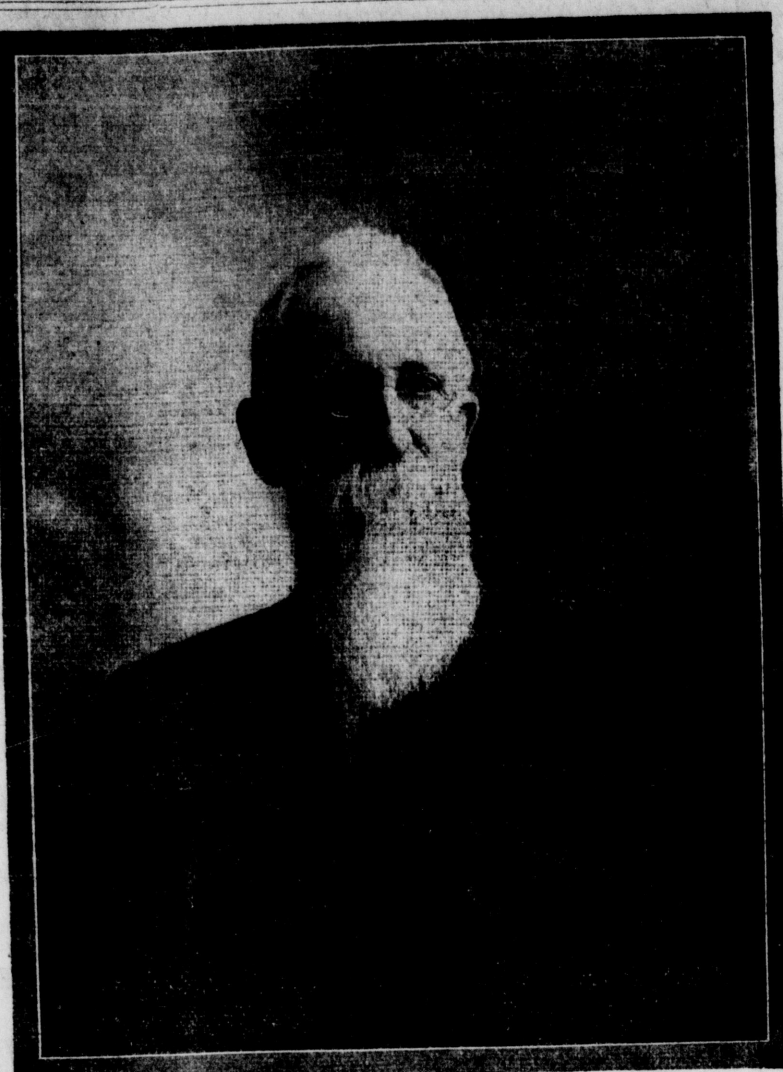

For a number of years Dr. J. M. Burlew has had offices over what was formerly the post office, now occupied by the Crookshank-Beatty dry goods store. Here the doctor had such conveniently located and well arranged office rooms that one would have thought it difficult to better them. It is quite evident that the doctor is one of those who are satisfied with nothing but the best, for when the new Spurgeon block was completed he was among the first to select a choice suite of rooms. The doctor's offices are located in Rooms 308, 309, 310 and 311, which is the corner suite on the third floor. His reception parlors, two large rooms connected by a wide arch, are on the Sycamore street side of the building and are comfortably and tastefully furnished. The corner room, which is the doctor's operating room, overlooks both Fourth and Sycamore streets and has the best possible light and ventilation. The adjoining room on the Fourth street side of the building is the consultation room.

Dr. Burlew enjoys one of the largest practices in the county and with his new sanitary offices is now better prepared than ever to give his patients the highest degree of service.

Dr. C. H. Brooks

One of the finest office suites in the W. H. Spurgeon block is that of Dr. C. H. Brooks, an eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, who now occupies Rooms 208, 209 and 210, which are the corner rooms on the second floor. Previous to his removal Dr. Brooks had offices in the Hervey-Finley building, corner of Fourth and Bush streets.

In fitting up his new offices the doctor has purchased entirely new furnishings and now has one of the finest equipped offices in the city. His reception parlor is furnished with luxurious rattan chairs and rockers which harmonize with the floor coverings and interior finish of the rooms, with pleasing effect.

WILLIAM H. SPURGEON, "FATHER OF SANTA ANA."

monize with the floor coverings and interior finish of the rooms, with pleasing effect.

In his operating room the walls, ceiling and all woodwork are done in flat black, the object being to secure a subdued light for the more effective use of an electric device for making transillumination examinations.

The doctor has a capable assistant in Miss B. G. Brown, a graduate nurse. Although one among the younger doctors of the city and despite the fact that he has been in practice here less than two years the doctor's professional services are in great demand and he has come to be regarded as an expert in his specialties.

Dr. Ball and Cushman

Having first choice of all the office rooms in the new Spurgeon block, Drs. Ball and Cushman chose the corner suite on the fourth floor. They occupy four rooms and have them all fitted up expressly to meet their requirements. The corner room is their consultation room and is large, well lighted and airy. The two adjoining rooms facing on Fourth street and connected by an arch, are their reception parlors. Directly across the hall from the reception rooms is their operating room. This room is splendidly lighted and ventilated from a large light shaft in the middle of the building. The location of the operating room renders it free from the noise of the street and from all possibility of dust or other impurities. This room is finished in white enamel and is as sanitary as it is possible to make it. The doctors have thoroughly equipped it for facilitating their professional work.

In point of residence Dr. Ball is one of the oldest established physicians in the city, and for twenty-four years had an office in the old W. H. Spurgeon building which was replaced by the splendid new structure. Drs. Ball and Cushman have a very wide circle of friends who will be pleased to know they are so nicely situated in their new offices.

Dr. Bartholomew

Dr. Bartholomew, who occupies Rooms 202 and 203 of the new Spurgeon block, has just arrived here from Chicago, Ill., and is a specialist in surgery and diseases of women.

Dr. Bartholomew began his medical education and hospital training in Cincinnati, Ohio, after which he went ahead and spent a year at Vienna, Austria, finishing his surgical training under Professor Billroth. Upon his return to the country he was elected professor of surgical anatomy to the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Chicago, which position he occupied for six years, when he resigned to accept the chair of professor of surgery in the Chicago Clinical School, which position he occupied for ten years.

Dr. Bartholomew has confined his practice to surgery and gynecology for the past twenty years. He became interested in citrus fruit culture two years ago and has an interest in a grove on Lemon Heights.

Dr. Bartholomew has faith in the future of California and Santa Ana, and has bought a residence here intending to make this his permanent home.

J. E. Tillotson in old Location

Among Santa Ana's best liked merchandises is "Joe" Tillotson, a man whose merchandise is like the man—both can be depended upon. Reliability is a good watchword to be mentioned in connection with Joe Tillotson, who occupies the west room of the old Spurgeon building and who is in the same position in the new structure, 212 W. Fourth street.

The new store room is two and one-half feet wider than the old one, and is so arranged that the proprietor has two beautiful show windows instead of one as in the old store. Mr. Tillotson is particularly pleased with the lighting features of the new store. No matter where you are in his store there is plenty of light. Colors of clothes can be discerned wherever one looks at them in the new store. The prism glass skylight and large windows at the back are responsible for this splendid feature.

Mr. Tillotson had only been in the old store a short time when he was called upon to move to the Postoffice building while the new building could be built. Mr. Tillotson, however, is not a stranger here, as he had worked at the clothing business in Santa Ana twenty-four years before starting a store of his own.

Mr. Tillotson says he can see considerable change in Santa Ana since he last occupied this position. There seem to be more people around. Fourth street is busier than it was a year ago.

Dr. C. G. Ross in Room 305

Dr. C. G. Ross, for three years a practicing dentist at 411½ North Main street, Santa Ana, is now occupying Room 305 in the new Spurgeon Building.

Dr. Ross grew up in this section and has a large acquaintance in the county. He secured his professional education in dentistry at the University of Michigan, and his work long since demonstrated that not only is his training of the best, but also that he has a natural aptitude for his work. In his practice room, adjoining Room 304, which is the reception room used also by Dr. Patton, he has installed a beautiful set of apparatus in white enamel finish, the finish that is so popular with physicians, dentists, and also the general public.

Dr. Ross has a handy little work room, and a recovery room adjoining the practice room proper, these advantages, together with a good, clear light enabling Dr. Ross to turn out good work in a quiet place above the noise of the streets.

Dr. C. V. Doty

Among the younger members of the dental profession in Santa Ana, there is none more popular than Dr. C. V. Doty, and it is doubtful if there are any who have made more rapid strides in their profession.

Dr. Doty is a graduate of the University of Southern California dental college, where he took the Atwater medal for operating technique and graduated first with high honors. The U. S. C. dental college is considered to have the best clinics in the state.

Dr. Doty began practice here about six months ago, and up to the time of his removal to the new Spurgeon block had offices in the Hervey-Finley block. The dentist now has a commodious office and laboratory in Rooms 401 and 402 in the new Spurgeon block. Everything in the way of furnishings and equipment is new and strictly up-to-date. In the operating room and laboratory no expense has been spared in putting in the best of appliances and instruments and in making the best of sanitary arrangements.

HAYSOM, THE TAILOR

Among the more recent firms who have started in business in Santa Ana is Haysom, the tailor, who moved into the new Spurgeon building while the workmen were still busy with hammer and saw on the construction.

Mr. Haysom showed his confidence in Santa Ana by putting in right at the start a stock of fine suit fabrics, which for quantity as well as quality would be a credit to a city tailoring establishment.

"I have had my eye on Santa Ana for the past two years," said Mr. Haysom, "and was only waiting for the right location, to open here. I am here to stay and have not the slightest doubt about building up a good paying business. In fact, I am now making more suits than I expected to get orders for in so short a time."

Mr. Haysom has a force of expert tailors in his shop here and with his immense stock of woolsens to choose from, is in a position to turn out suits that cannot fail to please his patrons. Every suit is made under a positive guarantee of satisfaction or money back.

At the present time Haysom is making a Thanksgiving offer of regular $25 made-to-measure suits at $19.50. This offer is meeting with a ready response as the saving of $5.50 on a $25 suit is too good a proposition to be overlooked.

A visit to Haysom's and an inspection of his large stock of imported and domestic woolsens, will inspire confidence in the most skeptical.
